What Plan Is Best?

Educators Say Each School District Has Own Problems

All educators don't agree on what is the best system for teaching children.

There is sharp division on some points — one of them is what organizational plan is best in local schools, the 6-3-3 plan, or the 8-4 plan?

Both have advantages and disadvantages. When educators are pinned down they say that either one is sufficient.

But, they also point out that each individual school district probably can take better advantage of one plan than the other. The existing facilities, teaching staff and financial abilities generally determine what system is best.

Here the Board of Education, on the advice of the State Department of Education, and in consultation with architects, decided that the 8-4 plan is best.

* * *

THE DECISION is based on the fact that the local system has been operating under that type organization since 1956; the 8-4 plan better fits our teaching staff and it is certainly the best plan financially.

In fact, financially we are unable to go to a 6-3-3 plan with its attendant buildings. We just cannot afford to build a Junior High School for Grades 7-8-9 and replace the old schools — High Street, Franklin Street and Mound Street — at the same time. The law won't let us borrow that much money.

Placing Grades 7 and 8 in the neighborhood schools, as is anticipated if the bond issue is approved, gets the hearty approval of the curriculum experts of the State Department of Education.

True, there are advantages to both plans. The advantages of the Junior High School include the advantages of any departmentalized school — that is, specialization in the teaching staff. Also, a broader program usually can be offered in such things as team sports, school club work and a higher degree of social activity.

The backers of a Junior High program say it has much merit when there are many school drop-outs at early ages. It seems to give those who leave school before the 11th and 12th years a broader background.

Here is what they say about the 8-4 plan:

It puts a "capstone" on elementary education. It allows the basic subjects to be mastered, before heading into the more specialized subjects.

Essentially, the 8-4 plan teaches boys and girls, while the 6-3-3 plan teaches subject matter.

State officials say the neighborhood unit plan will result in better discipline. Slower students will not be thrown into a pre-set curriculum causing frustration.

* * *

LEADERSHIP will be fostered, since 7th and 8th graders will have an opportunity to display leadership at an age when they would be unable to do so under the 6-3-3 plan.

Social life under the 8-4 plan is much less strenuous. Young 7th graders will not have social ambitions beyond their years. They will be separated from the boy-girl relationships of the junior and senior years.

With more children heading for college each year, the depth of understanding of basic subjects — math, reading, history — will stand them in good stead.

The Circleville Board of Education chose the course toward educational depth and understanding, rather than the course toward broader, but shallower, education.

Rhee Pledges Full Hearing For All Korea Grievances

SOUTH KOREA IN UPROAR — Here is the rioting in Masan, South Korea port, which spread to Seoul and other cities in an election aftermath. President Syngman Rhee clamped martial law on several cities. The rioting is over accusations that Lee Ki Poong, Rhee's candidate for vice president, won by fraud. Rhee's own opponent died shortly before election.

Troops Quell Rioting in Capital City

85-Year-Old Chief Sternly Rebuked By United States

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—President Syngman Rhee today pledged a redress of grievances as his soldiers smashed the last of the riotous resistance which brought this capital to the edge of revolution. New demonstrations were reported in other cities.

Sternly rebuked by the United States for his government's "repressive measures unsuited to a free democracy," the 85-year-old President said: "The government will devote maximum energy to the investigation of these disturbances. Those who are guilty can be assured of punishment. Those with major grievances can be certain of redress."

Lt. Gen. Song Yo-Chan, in charge of the emergency martial law clamped upon five cities Tuesday, said the last major groups of demonstrators had been broken up and their leaders arrested. The rioting over the past two days in Seoul, climaxed by a surging march on Rhee's mansion, left a confirmed total of 92 dead and more than 500 wounded or injured, 50 of them critically.

The death toll was expected to climb.

This capital looked as if it had been through a wartime battle. Weeping crowds gathered outside hospitals. Bodies were returned to bereaved families. A government consolation payment of 500,000 hwan—$750—was proclaimed for the bereaved.

Rhee's statement, his first in nine days of antigovernment demonstrations which burgeoned into Tuesday's wild violence, made no mention of U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter's assertion that the uprisings reflected "popular dissatisfaction over the conduct of the recent election."

An uneasy calm settled over the capital while Rhee's Cabinet met on this most grave crisis since Korea became a republic 12 years ago.

While troops stood guard at major government buildings, police kept up operations against scattered bands of demonstrators roaming the outskirts of Seoul. Scattered gunfire continued through the night, and shortly after dawn police shot and killed three members of an armed group defying the curfew.

New demonstrations were reported in Taegu, Kwangju, Conju, Suwon, Iri and Inchon, but no casualties were reported. Both Taegu and Kwangju are under martial law.

The demonstrators are demanding nullification of the March 15 presidential election, in which Rhee won a fourth term and his running mate, Li Kiang-poo, defeated vice president John M. Chang, both by overwhelming votes. The demonstrators charge that Rhee's Liberal party rigged the elections and also accuse the police of brutality against election day demonstrators.

The demonstrators drew surprise support Tuesday from U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, who charged that Rhee's government had adopted "repressive measures unsuited to a free democracy." He called on the government to protect democratic

Nehru, Chou Air Border Dispute

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru and Red China's Chou En-lai got down to business today on their disputed Himalayan borders. The two met for the first of six days of talks amid general skepticism that the negotiations will provide much of an advance toward agreement.

Since his arrival Tuesday, Chou has appeared tense and a bit apprehensive about his reception in a country angered at what it considers Chinese aggression.

All of New Delhi's newspapers underlined the somber reception for the Chinese Premier on his arrival. Nehru himself set the tone with a declaration in his welcoming remarks that India's relations with Communist China "have been imperiled for the present and future."

After laying a wreath at the shrine of Mohandas K. Gandhi and a call on Indian President Rajendra Prasad, Chou came to Nehru's official residence for their first talk. They will meet twice a day through Monday.

The two leaders brought diametrically opposed views of the border question to the discussions. China claims the entire 2,500-mile border between the two countries is undefined and should be negotiated. India insists the border is well known on the basis of history, tradition and usage and needs only minor adjustments.

Under dispute are 51,000 square miles of territory—about the size of England. Chinese troops control 12,000 square miles of it.

Chou was wearing the tense expression he has displayed since his arrival here from Rangoon when he showed up for the meeting with Nehru. But he smiled and laughed a little for photographers when Nehru turned on his affable charm.

A joint communique is expected at the conclusion of the talks April 26. No news conferences have been scheduled.

Case, Davis Win Jersey, Louisiana Polls

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) easily weathered a conservative challenge to his renomination and ballad-singing Jimmie Davis won the Louisiana governorship handily in Tuesday's elections.

Case will face Democrat Thorn Lord, Mercer County (Trenton) Democratic chairman in New Jersey's Senate election in November.

Case's margin of victory over Robert Morris, former chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, surpassed 100,000 votes. But Morris declined to say if he would support Case in the November election despite a plea for unity from Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), the Republican national chairman.

"We fought this campaign on principles," Morris said after conceding defeat. "We lost. We're going to keep on fighting for the same principles."

It was Morris' second unsuccessful attempt to win a New Jersey Republican senatorial nomination. He finished third in a three-way race in 1958 but got strong conservative backing in his campaign against Case.

Lord, as expected, won a lopsided victory over Richard M. Glassner, a Newark, N.J., attorney seeking election to his first public office.

In Louisiana, Davis smothered three opponents including Republican Francis Grevemberg. He will succeed Earl K. Long as governor.

Although Grevemberg made the best showing for a Republican in years in Louisiana, he was outpolled by Davis by a better than 4 to 1 margin. States Rights colorbearer Kent Courtney, a New Orleans publisher, and write-in candidate Maurice W. M. E. Clark, a poet-philosopher from New Orleans, ran far behind.

Davis was governor between 1944 and 1948.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) accepted a challenge for a face-to-face debate with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). Both are entered in West Virginia's May 10 presidential preferential primary.

Humphrey expressed delight that Kennedy has accepted the challenge.

"It will be, I am sure, a healthy discussion of the principal issues of the campaign, serving to inform the people, to develop programs and policies, to strengthen the Democratic party and to strengthen our country," Humphrey said.

Kennedy's Washington office said the senator will discuss religion and politics in a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington Thursday.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, earlier this week changed strategy in his campaign by opening up the religious issue in his West Virginia speeches.

On the Republican side, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York goes to north-central Pennsylvania today for what he said is a personal visit to boost a college roommate's campaign for Congress.

Ohio Convict Dies after Knife Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Edward Perkins, 38, of Cleveland, died in Ohio Penitentiary Hospital from a knife wound received Tuesday in a fight with a fellow inmate, Lowell Oliver.

Oliver, 22, of Rt. 3 McConnelsville, suffered three knife wounds and was in the penitentiary hospital.

The fight occurred while the two men were working in the prison's cotton mill. Officials said the cause of the fight was unknown. The two men struggled along a passageway between a wall and a bank of thread-spinning machines.

Perkins ended up with his arms around a pillar, and Oliver fled from the building to the hospital a city block away. The weapon was a six-inch homemade knife. It was not known where the weapon was obtained or which of the men first had it.

Perkins was sentenced to 1-15 years from Cuyahoga County on charges of carrying a concealed weapon, attempted burglary and possession of burglary tools. He was admitted to the penitentiary Oct. 12, 1959.

Oliver is serving a life sentence for second-degree manslaughter for the fatal shooting of Thomas Roach, a South Charleston, W. Va., salesman. He was admitted to the prison May 7, 1959.

The death certificate said Perkins died from shock due to a stab wound to the heart. Oliver suffered wounds in the chest, back and side.

Franklin County prosecutor Earl W. Allison will decide whether Oliver will appear before a grand jury.

Slain Father's Behavior Probed

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Reports that Sylvester William Napper, fatally shot Sunday while he was in bed, made improper advances to his daughter, Virginia Marie, are being investigated, Police Chief Justin Cornely said.

Virginia Marie, 18, is charged with first-degree murder for the fatal shooting of her father, 38. She has pleaded innocent.

Her sister, Edna Mae, 15, who was with Virginia Marie at the time of the shooting, is scheduled to be arraigned Monday in Juvenile Court on a charge of juvenile delinquency.

Georgia School Is Calm Again

Faculty Returns After Paddling Fuss

HAHIRA, Ga. (AP) — Teachers and pupils went back to classes at Hahira High School today, a paddling controversy settled, and calm restored in this south Georgia farming center.

The return of the 600 pupils, the principal and 32 teachers was in striking contrast to Tuesday's furor over the paddling last week of Earl Cornelius, 14.

The entire faculty resigned, more than 150 pupils staged a demonstration in front of the building chanting, "We want our teachers back" and parents talked about organizing a motorcade to the Lowndes County seat, Valdosta.

The school was closed and the five-man county board of education hurried over from Valdosta, 12 miles away, to hold an emergency meeting.

The board and the teachers solved the problem with the help of school bus driver Elmer Cornelius and his wife, parents of the youth who was paddled.

County School Supt. Clyde W. Meacham and Principal A. B. Martin said in a joint statement that the situation had been resolved satisfactorily.

The board assured Martin and the teachers of support in maintaining school discipline. The principal and teachers withdrew their resignations.

"We regret the situation going as far as it did," Meacham said.

The settlement was reached after Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius agreed to withdraw warrants alleging the principal and Mrs. Dwight Maples, a teacher, paddled Earl too severely a week ago.

MARTIAL LAW CLAMPED — Seoul, the capital, and these other four South Korean cities were scenes of rioting in an aftermath of the recent presidential election. Martial law was clamped on all but Masan, where the rioting first erupted, before spreading several days later. The dissidents charge Rhee's vice presidential candidate was elected through fraud. Rhee's opponent for the presidency died in U.S. before the election.

Twin Murder Suspect Gives Up His Flight

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth Watts, 21, wanted in Wooster for questioning in a double murder and wounding of a woman, surrendered to Ohio Highway Patrol officers today in Lawrence County near the Ashland, Ky., bridge.

Watts was not armed, and patrolmen said the surrender followed talks with the young man's father, Shiloh Watts, who lives in West Virginia.

Patrol Cpl. J. F. Devoll of the Jackson post said he and Cpl. William Cutting of the Cambridge post and Patrolman J. R. Solt had been searching the area for Watts. He said Cutting had talked with Watts' father earlier in an effort to get the youth to surrender.

This morning the three officers met the father in Lawrence County and were told they could find Watts near the Ashland, Ky., bridge across the Ohio River. When they got there, Watts walked out of a rest room at a service station and surrendered.

Devoll said he would consult with the Wayne County prosecuting attorney to see what disposition to make of Watts. He said the youth would be held at the patrol post in Jackson for a short time.

A search for Watts extending over three states began last Sunday. He is wanted for questioning in the slaying early Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Fender at their farm home near Doylestown, Ohio. He is charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound a Rittman woman, Mrs. Lewis Wagner, 25, now in fair condition in Wadsworth Memorial Hospital.

Senate Panel May Summon U.S. Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee decides today whether to ask Ambassador James J. Wadsworth to explain his role in the Geneva nuclear test ban talks.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) asked that such an invitation be extended, declaring that Wadsworth had joined in a statement with the Soviet delegation at Geneva which "misled the American people."

The committee agreed to meet briefly in closed session to vote on the Wadsworth invitation before resuming its public hearings on scientific problems involved in the proposed test ban.

Gore said at the first day's hearing Tuesday that the statement in which Wadsworth joined last month gave the impression the Soviet Union had fully accepted the U.S. February test ban proposal. This was not the case, the Tennesseean contended.

The senator also told newsmen after the hearings that "the administration's own scientists have given a devastating indictment of the administration proposal."

Gore declined to say whether he opposed the test ban treaty President Eisenhower is seeking.

Meg Due To Live Rent-Free in Palace

LONDON (AP) — Princes Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones are going to live rent free at London's Kensington Palace, birthplace of Queen Victoria.

Buckingham Palace today announced Queen Elizabeth II is furnishing the couple "grace and favor" quarters at the three-story, 18th century mansion hard by what is known as millionaires' row.

"Grace and favor" residences are owned by the Crown and supplied rent free to relatives and selected faithful subjects.

Nobody is being dispossed to give the princess and the man she marries May 6 a home. They will get the quarters last occupied by the marquess of Carisbrooke, who died Feb. 23. He was Victoria's last surviving grandson.

Sewer, Water Matters Take Majority of Council Time

Sewers and water took up most of the time of City Council last night.

The lawmakers last night asked that plans and specifications be prepared for installation of storm sewers to service the Garden City, Circle Drive, Georgia Road area and delayed for a month a proposal to install storm sewers in Sewer District No. 1, on the north side of the city.

At the same time Council heard a delegation of Walnut Creek Pike residents request annexation into the city. They asked when water and sanitary sewer would be available.

The dozen homeowners were told that the water system at present is inadequate to provide proper pressure to their homes. They also were told that property between Walnut Creek Pike and the city would have to be served first, since "leapfrogging" of an area is unwise.

The property owners then said they would be willing to come into the city if water were available now, but would wait for sanitary sewer provided the city undertook the drawing up of petitions, providing the plat necessary and the advertising. The city fathers failed to show interest in this program.

* * *

J. BOYD STOUT presented to Council the preliminary plat for the Garden City Subdivision, which lies at the corner of Nicholas Drive and Route 188. Council accepted the preliminary plat.

The Planning and zoning Commission has tentatively approved the plat and is waiting for a determination as to the amount of performance bond the developer will have to give to the city.

Frank Baum, Burgess & Niple, Columbus, told Council his firm has estimated cost of a storm sewer through the Blue and Watt Subdivisions, on the north city limits, would be about $130,000. However, the plan would dump water onto land owned by Robert Elsea.

If steps were taken to place a sewer underground through the Elsea land to the Norfolk & Western Railway right-of-way, the price would to up about $40,000.

Baum said the plan would cost benefitted property owners throughout the north area of the city about $360-$400 per lot. The area involved was not defined exactly.

Council passed three ordinances transferring funds. They took $1,500 from the Contingent Fund and placed it in the City Building Maintenance & Repair Fund (for rug, blinds and tile in Council Chambers);

Transferred $300 from Contingent Fund to a fund to pay Emil Watson Associates who will act as consulting experts on workman's compensation rates and cases; and $400 from Contingent Fund to Municipal Court Equipment Fund for purchase of two electric typewriters, a desk, file, bookcase and electric eraser.

An ordinance accepting dedication of lots Nos. 1 and 12 and the east side of Lot No. 21 in the Raymond Moats Subdivision as streets, was placed on first reading. These tracts already are used as streets, but the matter of delinquent taxes has to be investigated.

Councilman John Jenkins recommended the Service Department rent a dragline to clean out Smith Ditch, in the south end west of Court St. The estimated cost would be $500. The matter was referred to a joint meeting of the Service Committee and Finance Committee.

Dietrich's To Build Bowling Establishment in North End

Announcement was made today of the proposed construction of a second major bowling establishment in Circleville.

The announcement was made by John and Larry Dietrich, the father and son combination that currently owns Circle "D" Recreation on E. Main St.

On March 5 it was announced that a Chillicothe corporation planned to build a bowling center about two tenths of a mile north of the city on old Route 23.

The Dietrich's said their center will contain 20 lanes and will be built near the site of the other proposed building. The Chillicothe firm's plan called for 16 lanes.

Larry Dietrich said he and his father have taken option on about three acres of land under the Donald Watt real estate firm just north of the Tally-Ho Carryout on old Route 23. The area is within the city limits.

According to the Dietrich's, their new center will consist of a building 130 by 130 feet. They said plans call for a nursery, a snack bar and a proposed cocktail lounge to go along with the 20 bowling lanes.

The Dietrich's said the planned concrete block and brick veneer building will cost about $144,000. Equipment will cost about another $100,000 they said.

The local bowling firm heads said construction is slated to start immediately. They said current plans call for the center to be open in August.

Bowling facilities will include AMF automatic pin spotters, underlane ball returns and the latest type scoring devices, plus modern lounge facilities.

Larry Dietrich said the area will include a frontage of about 400 feet. Additional space will be provided for a paved parking lot to accomodate 160 cars.

Negro Solon's Home Jolted By Explosion

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A mass Negro demonstration, touched off by an explosion which wrecked a Negro city councilman's home, ended Tuesday with Mayor Ben West's affirmation that he favors desegregation of all-white eating facilities.

West told a group of about 3,000 Negroes who marched on City Hall he thought it was wrong to discriminate against anyone.

The mayor agreed with the Negro students that lunch counters and other eating facilities should be desegregated but added it would be a matter for the merchants to decide.

"I cannot tell a businessman how to run his business," he said.

A bitter debate between West and a Negro minister, the Rev C. T. Vivian preceded his remarks.

Vivian read a prepared statement which charged West with lack of decision and not using the moral weight of his office in the racial conflict.

The demonstration began shortly after the home of Negro city Councilman Z. Alexander Looby was shattered by an explosion.

Looby and his wife, asleep in a back bedroom, escaped injury.

Looby, 62, a life member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, has represented scores of Negro students arrested in connection with sit-in demonstrations here.

The City Council, at the request of West, has offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons who bombed the home.

Scarberry Trial Jury Is Seated

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A full jury has been seated tentatively in the first-degree murder trial of Alfred Scarberry. The 12 were selected Tuesday from 30 persons questioned.

Scarberry, 41 of Scioto County, is accused of drowning his two children in the Little Scioto River Dec. 12.

Most of the prospective jurors turned away were opposed to capital punishment. Prosecutor Everett Burton has indicated he will ask the death penalty.

Scarberry has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the murder charge. Authorities charged the drownings took place after Scarberry returned home from an afternoon drinking spree.

He is accused of taking his children—Kenneth, 2, and David Lee, 10 months—into the river and releasing them. The bodies never were recovered.

Case's margin of victory over Robert Morris, former chief counsel for the Senate Internal Security subcommittee, surpassed 100,000 votes. But Morris declined to say if he would support Case in the November election despite a plea for unity from Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), the Republican national chairman.

"We fought this campaign on principles," Morris said after conceding defeat. "We lost. We're going to keep on fighting for the same principles."

It was Morris' second unsuccessful attempt to win a New Jersey Republican senatorial nomination. He finished third in a three-way race in 1958 but got strong conservative backing in his campaign against Case.

Lord, as expected, won a lopsided victory over Richard M. Glassner, a Newark, N.J., attorney seeking election to his first public office.

In Louisiana, Davis smothered three opponents including Republican Francis Grevemberg. He will succeed Earl K. Long as governor.

Although Grevemberg made the best showing for a Republican in years in Louisiana, he was outpolled by Davis by a better than 4 to 1 margin. States Rights color bearer Kent Courtney, a New Orleans publisher, and write-in candidate Maurice W. M. E. Clark, a poet-philosopher from New Orleans, ran far behind.

Davis was governor between 1944 and 1948.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) accepted a challenge for a face-to-face debate with Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn). Both are entered in West Virginia's May 10 presidential preferential primary.

Humphrey expressed delight that Kennedy has accepted the challenge.

"It will be, I am sure, a healthy discussion of the principal issues of the campaign, serving to inform the people, to develop programs and policies, to strengthen the Democratic party and to strengthen our country," Humphrey said.

Kennedy's Washington office said the senator will discuss religion and politics in a speech before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington Thursday.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, earlier this week changed strategy in his campaign by opening up the religious issue in his West Virginia speeches.

On the Republican side, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York goes to north-central Pennsylvania today for what he said is a personal visit to boost a college roommate's campaign for Congress.

Ohio Convict Dies after Knife Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Thomas Edward Perkins, 38, of Cleveland, died in Ohio Penitentiary Hospital from a knife wound received Tuesday in a fight with a fellow inmate, Lowell Oliver.

Oliver, 22, of Rt. 3 McConnelsville, suffered three knife wounds and was in the penitentiary hospital.

The fight occurred while the two men were working in the prison's cotton mill. Officials said the cause of the fight was unknown. The two men struggled along a passageway between a wall and a bank of thread-spinning machines.

Perkins ended up with his arms around a pillar, and Oliver fled from the building to the hospital a city block away. The weapon was a six-inch homemade knife. It was not known where the weapon was obtained or which of the men first had it.

Perkins was sentenced to 1-15 years from Cuyahoga County on charges of carrying a concealed weapon, attempted burglary and possession of burglary tools. He was admitted to the penitentiary Oct. 12, 1959.

Oliver is serving a life sentence for second-degree manslaughter for the fatal shooting of Thomas Roach, a South Charleston, W. Va., salesman. He was admitted to the prison May 7, 1959.

The death certificate said Perkins died from shock due to a stab wound to the heart. Oliver suffered wounds in the chest, back and side.

Franklin County prosecutor Earl W. Allison will decide whether Oliver will appear before a grand jury.

Slain Father's Behavior Probed

MARION, Ohio (AP)—Reports that Sylvester William Napper, fatally shot Sunday while he was in bed, made improper advances to his daughter, Virginia Marie, are being investigated, Police Chief Justin Cornely said.

Virginia Marie, 18, is charged with first-degree murder for the fatal shooting of her father, 38. She has pleaded innocent.

Her sister, Edna Mae, 15, who was with Virginia Marie at the time of the shooting, is scheduled to be arraigned Monday in Juvenile Court on a charge of juvenile delinquency.

Georgia School Is Calm Again

Faculty Returns After Paddling Fuss

HAHIRA, Ga. (AP) — Teachers and pupils went back to classes at Hahira High School today, a paddling controversy settled, and calm restored in this south Georgia farming center.

The return of the 600 pupils, the principal and 32 teachers was in striking contrast to Tuesday's furor over the paddling last week of Earl Cornelius, 14.

The entire faculty resigned, more than 150 pupils staged a demonstration in front of the building chanting, "We want our teachers back" and parents talked about organizing a motorcade to the Lowndes County seat, Valdosta.

The school was closed and the five-man county board of education hurried over from Valdosta, 12 miles away, to hold an emergency meeting.

The board and the teachers solved the problem with the help of school bus driver Elmer Cornelius and his wife, parents of the youth who was paddled.

County School Supt. Clyde W. Meacham and Principal A. B. Martin said in a joint statement that the situation had been resolved satisfactorily.

The board assured Martin and the teachers of support in maintaining school discipline. The principal and teachers withdrew their resignations.

"We regret the situation going as far as it did," Meacham said.

The settlement was reached after Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius agreed to withdraw warrants alleging the principal and Mrs. Dwight Maples, a teacher, paddled Earl too severely a week ago.

Senate Panel May Summon U.S. Envoy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee decides today whether to ask Ambassador James J. Wadsworth to explain his role in the Geneva nuclear test ban talks.

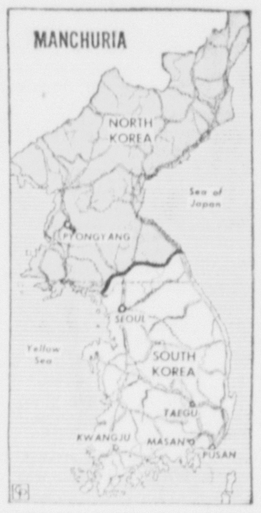

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) asked that such an invitation be extended, declaring that Wadsworth had joined in a statement with the Soviet delegation at Geneva which "misled the American people."

The committee agreed to meet briefly in closed session to vote on the Wadsworth invitation before resuming its public hearings on scientific problems involved in the proposed test ban.

Gore said at the first day's hearing Tuesday that the statement in which Wadsworth joined last month gave the impression the Soviet Union had fully accepted the U.S. February test ban proposal. This was not the case, the Tennesseean contended.

The senator also told newsmen after the hearings that "the administration's own scientists have given a devastating indictment of the administration proposal."

Gore declined to say whether he opposed the test ban treaty President Eisenhower is seeking.

MARTIAL LAW CLAMPED — Seoul, the capital, and these other four South Korean cities were scenes of rioting in an aftermath of the recent presidential election. Martial law was clamped on all but Masan, where the rioting first erupted, before spreading several days later. The dissidents charge Rhee's vice presidential candidate was elected through fraud. Rhee's opponent for the presidency died in U.S. before the election.

Twin Murder Suspect Gives Up His Flight

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth Watts, 21, wanted in Wooster for questioning in a double murder and wounding of a woman, surrendered to Ohio Highway Patrol officers today in Lawrence County near the Ashland, Ky., bridge.

Watts was not armed, and patrolmen said the surrender followed talks with the young man's father, Shiloh Watts, who lives in West Virginia.

Patrol Cpl. J. F. Devoll of the Jackson post said he and Cpl. William Cutting of the Cambridge post and Patrolman J. R. Solt had been searching the area for Watts. He said Cutting had talked with Watts' father earlier in an effort to get the youth to surrender.

This morning the three officers met the father in Lawrence County and were told they could find Watts near the Ashland, Ky., bridge across the Ohio River. When they got there, Watts walked out of a rest room at a service station and surrendered.

Devoll said he would consult with the Wayne County prosecuting attorney to see what disposition to make of Watts. He said the youth would be held at the patrol post in Jackson for a short time.

A search for Watts extending over three states began last Sunday. He is wanted for questioning in the slaying early Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Fender at their farm home near Doylestown, Ohio. He is charged with shooting with intent to kill or wound a Rittman woman, Mrs. Lewis Wagner, 25, now in fair condition in Wadsworth Memorial Hospital.

LONDON (AP) — Princes Margaret and Antony Armstrong-Jones are going to live rent free at London's Kensington Palace, birthplace of Queen Victoria.

Buckingham Palace today announced Queen Elizabeth II is furnishing the couple "grace and favor" quarters at the three-story, 18th century mansion hard by what is known as millionaires' row.

"Grace and favor" residences are owned by the Crown and supplied rent free to relatives and selected faithful subjects.

Nobody is being dispossed to give the princess and the man she marries May 6 a home. They will get the quarters last occupied by the marquess of Carisbrooke, who died Feb. 23. He was Victoria's last surviving grandson.

Sewer, Water Matters Take Majority of Council Time

Sewers and water took up most of the time of City Council last night.

The lawmakers last night asked that plans and specifications be prepared for installation of storm sewers to service the Garden City, Circle Drive, Georgia Road area and delayed for a month a proposal to install storm sewers in Sewer District No. 1, on the north side of the city.

At the same time Council heard a delegation of Walnut Creek Pike residents request annexation into the city. They asked when water and sanitary sewer would be available.

The dozen homeowners were told that the water system at present is inadequate to provide proper pressure to their homes. They also were told that property between Walnut Creek Pike and the city would have to be served first, since "leapfrogging" of an area is unwise.

The property owners then said they would be willing to come into the city if water were available now, but would wait for sanitary sewer provided the city undertook the drawing up of petitions, providing the plat necessary and the advertising. The city fathers failed to show interest in this program.

J. BOYD STOUT presented to Council the preliminary plat for the Garden City Subdivision, which lies at the corner of Nicholas Drive and Route 188. Council accepted the preliminary plat.

The Planning and zoning Commission has tentatively approved the plat and is waiting for a determination as to the amount of performance bond the developer will have to give to the city.

Frank Baum, Burgess & Niple, Columbus, told Council his firm has estimated cost of a storm sewer through the Blue and Watt Subdivisions, on the north city limits, would be about $130,000. However, the plan would dump water onto land owned by Robert Elsea.

If steps were taken to place a sewer underground through the Elsea land to the Norfolk & Western Railway right-of-way, the price would to up about $40,000.

Baum said the plan would cost benefitted property owners throughout the north area of the city about $360-$400 per lot. The area involved was not defined exactly.

Council passed three ordinances transferring funds. They took $1,500 from the Contingent Fund and placed it in the City Building Maintenance & Repair Fund (for rug, blinds and tile in Council Chambers);

Transferred $300 from Contingent Fund to a fund to pay Emil Watson Associates who will act as consulting experts on workman's compensation rates and cases; and $400 from Contingent Fund to Municipal Court Equipment Fund for purchase of two electric typewriters, a desk, file, bookcase and electric eraser.

An ordinance accepting dedication of lots Nos. 1 and 12 and the east side of Lot No. 21 in the Raymond Moats Subdivision as streets, was placed on first reading. These tracts already are used as streets, but the matter of delinquent taxes has to be investigated.

Councilman John Jenkins recommended the Service Department rent a dragline to clean out Smith Ditch, in the south end west of Court St. The estimated cost would be $500. The matter was referred to a joint meeting of the Service Committee and Finance Committee.

Dietrich's To Build Bowling Establishment in North End

Announcement was made today of the proposed construction of a second major bowling establishment in Circleville.

The announcement was made by John and Larry Dietrich, the father and son combination that currently owns Circle "D" Recreation on E. Main St.

On March 5 it was announced that a Chillicothe corporation planned to build a bowling center about two tenths of a mile north of the city on old Route 23.

The Dietrich's said their center will contain 20 lanes and will be built near the site of the other proposed building. The Chillicothe firm's plan called for 16 lanes.

Larry Dietrich said he and his father have taken option on about three acres of land under the Donald Watt real estate firm just north of the Tally-Ho Carryout on old Route 23. The area is within the city limits.

According to the Dietrich's, their new center will consist of a building 130 by 130 feet. They said plans call for a nursery, a snack bar and a proposed cocktail lounge to go along with the 20 bowling lanes.

The Dietrich's said the planned concrete block and brick veneer building will cost about $144,000. Equipment will cost about another $100,000 they said.

The local bowling firm heads said construction is slated to start immediately. They said current plans call for the center to be open in August.

Bowling facilities will include AMF automatic pin spotters, underlane ball returns and the latest type scoring devices, plus modern lounge facilities.

Larry Dietrich said the area will include a frontage of about 400 feet. Additional space will be provided for a paved parking lot to accomodate 160 cars.

Negro Solon's Home Jolted By Explosion

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A mass Negro demonstration, touched off by an explosion which wrecked a Negro city councilman's home, ended Tuesday with Mayor Ben West's affirmation that he favors desegregation of all-white eating facilities.

West told a group of about 3,000 Negroes who marched on City Hall he thought it was wrong to discriminate against anyone.

The mayor agreed with the Negro students that lunch counters and other eating facilities should be desegregated but added it would be a matter for the merchants to decide.

"I cannot tell a businessman how to run his business," he said.

A bitter debate between West and a Negro minister, the Rev C. T. Vivian preceded his remarks.

Vivian read a prepared statement which charged West with lack of decision and not using the moral weight of his office in the racial conflict.

The demonstration began shortly after the home of Negro city Councilman Z. Alexander Looby was shattered by an explosion.

Looby and his wife, asleep in a back bedroom, escaped injury.

Looby, 62, a life member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, has represented scores of Negro students arrested in connection with sit-in demonstrations here.

The City Council, at the request of West, has offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons who bombed the home.

Scarberry Trial Jury Is Seated

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—A full jury has been seated tentatively in the first-degree murder trial of Alfred Scarberry. The 12 were selected Tuesday from 30 persons questioned.

Scarberry, 41 of Scioto County, is accused of drowning his two children in the Little Scioto River Dec. 12.

Most of the prospective jurors turned away were opposed to capital punishment. Prosecutor Everett Burton has indicated he will ask the death penalty.

Scarberry has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the murder charge. Authorities charged the drownings took place after Scarberry returned home from an afternoon drinking spree.

He is accused of taking his children—Kenneth, 2, and David Lee, 10 months—into the river and releasing them. The bodies never were recovered.

Venezuelan Rebels Grab Army Post

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Rebels seized control of an army regiment's headquarters at San Cristobal near the Colombian border today in an attempt to set off nationwide revolt against President Romulo Betancourt's government.

Betancourt ordered soldiers to San Cristobal to quell the uprising, and pledges of support came to him at once from military, political and civilian sources.

The moderate Venezuelan President announced he would use all constitutional powers to crush the rebellion, but would not suspend constitutional guarantees in this oil-rich nation.

The strong military garrison at Caracas announced its support at once for Betancourt's government.

The rebels held the radio station and army garrison at San Cristobal, but were fighting loyal national guard units for control of villages in the area.

A disgruntled Venezuelan general, Jesus Maria Castro Leon, was proclaimed leader of the invasion force. He was definse minister under the military junta that ruled Venezuela after the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Leaders of the nation's three major political parties spoke over a national radio network, appealing to their followers in San Cristobal to vigorously oppose the insurrection.

The rebels seized control of the Simon Bolivar army regiment's headquarters at San Cristobal.

Gen. Pedro Jose Quevado, commander of the Venezuelan armed forces, urged "my companions in arms to set an example of common sense and maturity" and support the constitutional government.

The head of the Central Workers Organization, Jose Gonzalez Navarro, called for its 1,200,000 members to go on strike. He said this would be a demonstration of opposition to the "criminal" insurrection which, he declared, was counting on the support of the Dominican Republic.

The government had announced last Saturday that it had smashed a plot for an armed invasion of Venezuela from Colombia by officers who were dismissed from the army for their support of former dictator Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Venezuelan naval craft and air force planes were patrolling the coast today on the lookout for two fishing boats which the minister of defense, General Jose Lopez Henrique, said had sailed from Spain with arms for the plotters.

Betancourt, a moderate with a reputation as a social reformer, has faced a series of minor uprisings, threats and harassments since he took office early in 1959. He was elected a year after the overthrow of Perez Jimenez, now in exile in Florida.

Venezuela, a tropical country, lies on the northern hump of South America facing the Caribbean. It has about six million people, and because of the nation's rich resources, has the highest per capita income in South America.

Rhee's statement appeared a move toward meeting the complaints, but its full meaning remained to be determined. The statement was read to newsmen by a spokesman, and the president himself did not appear.

The statement called on the South Korean people to "display their patriotism and follow the instruction of responsible authorities."

"The first task is full restoration of law and order — so that necessity for martial law no longer exists," Rhee declared.

While promising redress of major grievances, the President gave no indication of what the government would do to meet its critics.

Rhee's Cabinet met throughout the day, discussing the situation and Herter's censure. Tanks and armed combat troops guarded the Cabinet building and other major public buildings.

Stock Mart Blue Chips Show Sag

NEW YORK (AP)—Blue chips sagged as the stock market resumed a slow retreat early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

Key stocks declined from fractions to about 2 points. Scattered gains among selected issues cushioned the decline which was not very sharp on average.

Steels, motors, rails, utilities, drugs and electrical equipments took losses. Airlines, mail orders, aircrafts and tobaccos showed very little change.

The market was irregularly lower at the start. An attempt to rally fizzled. Then prices edged off still lower.

The mixed nature of first quarter earnings reports continued to caused uncertainty. Technicians noted that the market had failed to pierce a "resistance area" in the vicinity of 636 in the Dow Jones industrial average and may be in the process of "testing" the lows of March.

American Telephone, which is owned by more shareholder than any other stock, dropped more than a point as the annual meeting convened.

DuPont dropped more than 3, apparently in continued reaction to disappointing earnings. General Electric, affected by similar disappointment, fell about 3. Radio Corp. was off around 2. Texas Instruments lost more than a point.

Motorola dived about 4 points. Ampex and Beckman Instruments held gains of about a point.

Losses of around a point were shown by U.S. Steel, Ford, Chrysler International Nickel, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric and Union Carbide.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.38 to 622.02.

Venezuelan Rebels Grab Army Post

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Rebels seized control of an army regiment's headquarters at San Cristobal near the Colombian border today in an attempt to set off nationwide revolt against President Romulo Betancourt's government.

Betancourt ordered soldiers to San Cristobal to quell the uprising, and pledges of support came to him at once from military, political and civilian sources.

The moderate Venezuelan President announced he would use all constitutional powers to crush the rebellion, but would not suspend constitutional guarantees in this oil-rich nation.

The strong military garrison at Caracas announced its support at once for Betancourt's government.

The rebels held the radio station and army garrison at San Cristobal, but were fighting loyal national guard units for control of villages in the area.

A disgruntled Venezuelan general, Jesus Maria Castro Leon, was proclaimed leader of the invasion force. He was definse minister under the military junta that ruled Venezuela after the overthrow of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Leaders of the nation's three major political parties spoke over a national radio network, appealing to their followers in San Cristobal to vigorously oppose the insurrection.

The rebels seized control of the Simon Bolivar army regiment's headquarters at San Cristobal.

Gen. Pedro Jose Quevado, commander of the Venezuelan armed forces, urged "my companions in arms to set an example of common sense and maturity" and support the constitutional government.

The head of the Central Workers Organization, Jose Gonzalez Navarro, called for its 1,200,000 members to go on strike. He said this would be a demonstration of opposition to the "criminal" insurrection which, he declared, was counting on the support of the Dominican Republic.

The government had announced last Saturday that it had smashed a plot for an armed invasion of Venezuela from Colombia by officers who were dismissed from the army for their support of former dictator Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Venezuelan naval craft and air force planes were patrolling the coast today on the lookout for two fishing boats which the minister of defense, General Jose Lopez Henrique, said had sailed from Spain with arms for the plotters.

Betancourt, a moderate with a reputation as a social reformer, has faced a series of minor uprisings, threats and harassments since he took office early in 1959. He was elected a year after the overthrow of Perez Jimenez, now in exile in Florida.

Venezuela, a tropical country, lies on the northern hump of South America facing the Caribbean. It has about six million people, and because of the nation's rich resources, has the highest per capita income in South America.

The mixed nature of first quarter earnings reports continued to caused uncertainty. Technicians noted that the market had failed to pierce a "resistance area" in the vicinity of 636 in the Dow Jones industrial average and may be in the process of "testing" the lows of March.

American Telephone, which is owned by more shareholder than any other stock, dropped more than a point as the annual meeting convened.

DuPont dropped more than 3, apparently in continued reaction to disappointing earnings. General Electric, affected by similar disappointment, fell about 3. Radio Corp. was off around 2. Texas Instruments lost more than a point.

Motorola dived about 4 points. Ampex and Beckman Instruments held gains of about a point.

Losses of around a point were shown by U.S. Steel, Ford, Chrysler International Nickel, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric and Union Carbide.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.38 to 622.02.

Is YOUR Boat Insured?

Boats, motors and similar equipment involve considerable investment. If they were stolen or damaged it might take an uncomfortable chunk out of your bank roll to replace them. Gases on Par with Atom Weapons

One of the horrors of modern warfare and the weaponry developed to keep pace with scientific knowledge is the variety of means man is devising to exterminate himself. Attention has been focused mainly on attempts to control nuclear weapons, and the world is familiar with the devastation which can be wrought by the contents of this arsenal.

The military long ago combined radiological (nuclear) weapons with two other categories of mass-destructive mediums, chemical and biological. The latter two are nothing new to weapon closets, but modern chemical and germ gases bear little resemblance to World War I predecessors.

CBR warfare is an established course in modern military instruction. Its increased importance is derived from the possibility that eventually the world will disown atomic and hydrogen blast weapons, because of the simple fact that they will be standard weapons in almost every army.

Except for missile delivery and defense systems, the science of atomic warfare has been developed almost as fully as the more conventional concepts of infantry, armored and airborne. There is no advantage to an army — except as defense — in a weapon common to the enemy.

Military chiefs are not disillusioned by the failure of diplomats to arrive at an ironclad nuclear ban. For all practical purposes, the high degree of efficiency achieved by United States nuclear retaliation efforts curtails the possibility of employment of these weapons.

There is no such known defense for chemical and biological weapons. Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, military chief of Army research, and Dr. Herbert F. York, civilian director of research and engineering for the U. S. Defense Department, in recent weeks have both publicly mentioned the work now being accomplished in preparing the United States for the possibility that gas and germ warfare may replace nuclear bombs as a foremost concern.

Historically, the United States has used its stocks of lethal and temporarily incapacitating gases as a threat to any who would try to employ their use. That policy still stands. Secrecy still surrounds much of the development of chemical-biological weapons, but it is known the effect of those now on hand is capable of annihilating, or at least pacifying, large metropolitan areas with a single attack.

Retaliation again seems to provide the greatest assurance that gas varieties of lethality will never be employed. Perfection of an effective retaliation system is now one of the primary goals of the Pentagon. That effective retaliation demands the perfection of terrible new weapons of destruction is not easy to accept, but it is preferable to find them in U. S. warehouses than coming from containers marked USSR.

Remarks To Irk a Dentist

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a dentist gets tired of hearing:

"Here's one that will jaw you."

"Seen any interesting new teeth lately?"

"London bridge is falling down—and so is yours."

"Generally speaking, I prefer a local anesthetic, so long as it numbs me all over."

"Before you start to drill, let me tell you a story that will amuse you."

"Ouch!"

"Who fixes your teeth, Doc? They look awful sincere."

"Can you do anything about our daughter? She is 12 and still sucks her thumb. We don't mind but her fiance objects."

"Put the novocaine needle in the wallet, Doc. Then give me the bill."

"Since you put in the new plates I can still say Ohio okay. But whenever I try to say Mississippi out loud, cabs drive up."

"Certainly they look all right. But why is it when I laugh people around me seem so nervous?"

"They may fit your mind, Doc, but they don't fit my mouth."

"I don't quite know how to say it, doctor, but when you gave me the gas I had the strangest feeling. My, what interesting wallpaper."

"Ouch!"

"Dear Doc, the gal in your office phoned to say it was time to have my teeth cleaned. Should I bring them in—or mail them?"

"The bite looks nicer in the mirror, but I sure do miss the feeling of the teeth being together."

"You should have warned me, Doc. All I did was take one bite of an apple—and I hand you the result."

"I'd rather not have the gold show if you can help it, but if it does have to show, don't spare the carats. I deal with the public, and it is part of my job to look impressive."

"Just fix the one in front. I'm getting married soon, and after that you can fix them all. My husband-to-be works for the city."

"Doc, when I say how much I appreciate what you've done for me, I'm not just beating my gums together—or am I?"

Political Platform Nonsense

By George Sokolsky

The two political parties are not associations in the sense that members attend them and vote as individuals. They are bodies of delegations, chosen by various devices, each state determining the method of selection.

Some delegations vote as a body (the unit rule); other delegations are bound, for a number of ballots, to be faithful to a particular candidate; other delegations are uninstructed.

Those who attend conventions as delegates are not the greatest men in a particular party — most of those who sit on the platform or in boxes. The delegates are usually party hacks, locally chosen by political leaders either because of their services to the local party organizations or because of their contributions to the party. It is very rare for a delegate to be independent of his party leaders. Whenever a leader wants to, he calls a caucus and there any independent ideas which may beset a delegate are driven out of his mind.

It has often been suggested, but the idea has never been permitted to go far, that voting for candidates in the convention be done by a secret ballot. We elect Presidents, Governors, members of Congress, almost everybody by a secret ballot but at conventions a delegation is voted in public or when each delegate is polled, as it is called, it is by a viva voce vote. That is, the delegate gets up and shouts his vote — nowadays over a microphone.

A secret ballot would change the nature of the convention. In the first place, the favorite son gimmick which is a waste of time would probably disappear. The favorite son gimmick has two functions: one, it advertises a Governor or a Senator to the nation and it might possibly give such a person a chance to run for Vice President, although that is not too likely; the other function of this device is that it gives the leadership of a particular delegation an opportunity to bargain for deals.

It will be recalled that in the 1952 Republican Convention when Senator Robert A. Taft and General Eisenhower were contesting for the nomination, the California delegation, pledged to Governor Earl Warren, was known to have decided to hold out to the bitter end for Warren.

At one period of the convention before the actual voting started it looked as though Warren held the balance of power and he was being importuned by both sides not to vote for the other.

As an instance of captive delegations, reference can be made to Governor John Fine of Pennsylvania, now forgotten politically, who was presumed to control 30 votes which both sides were seeking. The Governor himself could not be found. He had made his bargain, whatever it was.

The secret ballot would obviate all this. The candidates would be lined up in voting machines and the delegates would vote and the highest man would win. The delegates could then go home and the Bosses would probably drop dead.

Another thing about conventions is the long argument anent the platform. These are enormous documents, running to 10,000 or more words, covering every detail of the political, social and economic life of the nation. The platform is usually drawn up by a committee of one representative from each state. Few who serve on such committees know what they are doing. There subcommittees and some of them hire experts.

The platforms are badly written and badly edited documents I have recently gone over about a dozen of them, covering a long period in our history. On the whole, they are worthless: documents, unrealistically drawn, incapable of being implemented, couched in uninspired language.

Would it not be simpler if each party drew up a broad statement of principles, say a 1,000 or 1,500-word document, congently prepared, sharply defined, inspirationally stated — a document which could be a guiding light to its followers?

Perhapr it is too much to ask the political parties to take their platforms seriously. If one wants to see how far a politician moves from his platform, it is only necessary to read the Democratic platform of 1932 on which Franklin D. Roosevelt ran. It preached economy; he entered upon a career of spending such as we had never before witnessed. In fact, not an item of that platform related to the New Deal.

Both parties ignore their platforms after Election Day; why bother about them before Election Day?

WW 2 Hero, 19, Going Blind, Deaf

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A World War II hero, nearly blind and going deaf, has passed his 19th birthday.

Major Von Luckner III is a German shepherd, member of the Marines' K-9 Corps of the war.

He belongs to Jeanne Warner Platt.

He was wounded in one Pacific battle while dragging an injured Marine to safety. He wears a steel plate in his head. He was awarded the Purple Heart.

In three years' service in the South Pacific, Major was credited with saving the lives of at least eight other men. He was awarded the Silver Star.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HARPO MARX loves to find short cuts when he's driving a car. Bound from Los Angeles to the sun-baked desert one morning, he insisted to a friend at the wheel that he knew a little-traveled side road that would cut the time of the trip from four hours to less than three.

The friend accepted his suggestion and off they drove on the side road. Harpo hates to admit he's wrong, but after hours of steady but unproductive driving he finally conceded, "I guess we're lost."

"What makes you think so?" asked the friend sarcastically.

"For one thing," observed Harpo, "it's snowing."

Akron Union Aide Accused in Forgery

KRON, Ohio (AP)—Jack Humphrey, ousted as business agent and president of Teamsters Union Local 335 (taxicab drivers), was charged with forgery and embezzlement in warrants sworn out by the police prosecutor's office today.

He was accused of writing at least eight checks against the local for $375 and forging the name of a union trustee, Leroy H. Baldwin.

The local's members, in a meeting Monday night, took the presidency away from Humphrey, charging him with neglect of duty and incompetence. He earlier had been deposed as business manager. He held the dual posts since March 1959.

Youth Steals To Buy Car

CINCINNATI (AP) — A glossy used car, sitting in a lot, was the lure that spurred Willie Rogers, 18, to a series of burglaries, police reported Tuesday night. Officers arrested the youth and said he admitted eight burglaries to obtain money to buy the car. But he netted less than $200.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scheduled debate between Sens. John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey in the West Virginia presidential primary should, in a sense, be a kind of beauty contest. But not quite.

The two senators are like a pair of salesmen from the same company (the Democratic party), with the same label on their suitcases (liberal), asking the customers to make a choice.

There isn't much to choose between their ideas on the kind of administration they say the country needs. They're pretty much the same. The choice to some extent would have to revolve more around personality than programs.

But the loser in the May 10 West Virginia primary will probably blame his loss on more than the way he parts his hair.

The two men tramped through trimmed Humphrey but refused a challenge to debate him. Kennedy explains he thought "it would be harmful to the party and candidates."

Perhaps a much more persuasive factor in his thinking then was the belief he could wallop Humphrey without going through a debate. The polls at the time indicated he was out in front. He won by more than 100,000 votes.

In West Virginia—where Kennedy seems to have tougher going than in Wisconsin—he says he accepted the second Humphrey debate challenge because of the attacks on him.

The two men's views, because they are rather similar, may not be an important factor in swaying West Virginia voters. But the sight of the two men in action and close up will provide a chance to weigh their presidential looks.

But even if the primary results force one of the other to give up his presidential hopes, the loser is apt to place the blame on something besides the debate.

Kennedy as a loser might feel, for instance, that his Catholicism, which didn't keep him from winning in Wisconsin where 30 per cent of the people are Catholic, was what killed him in West Virginia where the Catholics are only 5 per cent.

Or, he might explain a defeat by reasoning he was ganged-up on—that the backers of three other presidential hopefuls—Adlai E. Stevenson and Sens. Stuart Symington and Lyndon B. Johnson—eamed up to help Humphrey win in order to knock Kennedy out of the race altogether.

This would have to be based on a theory that Humphrey has no chance at the Democratic convention to get the nomination and that Kennedy, unless stopped soon might be unstoppable.

Humphrey, who knows that there seems to be a general opinion he can't get the nomination, would have to think closer to home to explain a defeat for him since neither the Catholic vote nor a gang-up would figure in his downfall.

You're Telling Me!

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

Among all those being mentioned as possible presidential candidates, Adlai Stevenson is the only seasoned veteran. However, this is one game where experience isn't necessarily an advantage. Ask Tom Dewey!

Zadok Dumkopf today gave a name to that sudden hot spell which broke the back of winter in his neck of the woods: "Instant Summer"!

Parting is sweet but no sorrow when it comes time to part with that overcoat, galoshes and muffler!

New York's poultry population includes 10,244,000 chickens and 7,240,000 ducks, according to Factographs. A small boy's dream — more than 34 million drumsticks!

New York also houses some 59,000 turkeys — not counting those current Broadway flops.

The mystery of where Eskimos originally came from may soon be solved, writes an anthropologist. A bigger mystery is why they stay where they are!

An increasing number of homes have two or more television sets, according to a business page item. That's understandable — it IS rather fatiguing to have to walk all the way to the living room to see a show!

RETIRED — According to reports in Russia, Lazar M. Kaganovich, 66, an "old Bolshevik" dropped from the Presidium (Politburo) with "anti-party group" in June, 1957, has retired on a pension and is living with his family in Moscow. Since their expulsion, Kaganovich and the four "anti-party" leaders have been assailed repeatedly by the Soviet press for opposing Premier Khrushchev's programs.

Toledo Books Rally Backing Negro Effort

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A community-wide rally to protest segregation at lunch counters in southern cities will be held here May 9.

Plans for the rally were made Monday at a meeting of about 50 labor, religious and civic leaders summoned by Mayor Michael Damas.

The community protest is the first of its kind, said local officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Plans for the rally grew out of an appeal by the national NAACP, which asked its local chapters to picket and boycott chain variety stores involved in the lunch counter disputes.

Sponsors of the rally in Civic Auditorium hope for a crowd of at least 2,600 persons and seek to raise $10,000 for the legal defense of southern students arrested as a result of lunch counter demonstrations.

- Feeble-Minded Offspring

Q. Is it advisable to put twins in different classrooms on starting school?
A. It is generally advisable to gradually bring about some separation between twins. If they are together all the time and dealt with as though they were one person, they tend to lean exclusively on each other. It is also easier for twins to gain a feeling of individuality if they are not together all the time. Separate classrooms, when feasible, would seem best.

Q. Is it possible for a person to become infected with pinworm through contact with a dog? The veterinarian said dogs are not carriers of pinworms.
A. The veterinarian was correct. House pets, including the dog, have been shown to play no role in the spread of this infection. The human is the sole natural host of the parasite and transmission of the disease is from person to person.

Q. About two years ago we adopted a baby. The mother was unwed and feeble-minded. What are the chances of our baby being subnormal?
A. There are many causes of mental deficiency. To give a satisfactory answer to this question it would be necessary to know the cause in this case. However, it is not unlikely that, since the baby had at least one feeble-minded parent, the chances are much greater than average that the child also will be mentally below par.

Far from being a burdensome addition to the cost of illness, nothing so vitally important to you costs so little as prescribed medicine.

Gases on Par with Atom Weapons

One of the horrors of modern warfare and the weaponry developed to keep pace with scientific knowledge is the variety of means man is devising to exterminate himself. Attention has been focused mainly on attempts to control nuclear weapons, and the world is familiar with the devastation which can be wrought by the contents of this arsenal.

The military long ago combined radiological (nuclear) weapons with two other categories of mass-destructive mediums, chemical and biological. The latter two are nothing new to weapon closets, but modern chemical and germ gases bear little resemblance to World War I predecessors.

CBR warfare is an established course in modern military instruction. Its increased importance is derived from the possibility that eventually the world will disown atomic and hydrogen blast weapons, because of the simple fact that they will be standard weapons in almost every army.

Except for missile delivery and defense systems, the science of atomic warfare has been developed almost as fully as the more conventional concepts of infantry, armored and airborne. There is no advantage to an army — except as defense — in a weapon common to the enemy.

Military chiefs are not disillusioned by the failure of diplomats to arrive at an ironclad nuclear ban. For all practical purposes, the high degree of efficiency achieved by United States nuclear retaliation efforts curtails the possibility of employment of these weapons.

There is no such known defense for chemical and biological weapons. Lt. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, military chief of Army research, and Dr. Herbert F. York, civilian director of research and engineering for the U. S. Defense Department, in recent weeks have both publicly mentioned the work now being accomplished in preparing the United States for the possibility that gas and germ warfare may replace nuclear bombs as a foremost concern.

Historically, the United States has used its stocks of lethal and temporarily incapacitating gases as a threat to any who would try to employ their use. That policy still stands. Secrecy still surrounds much of the development of chemical-biological weapons, but it is known the effect of those now on hand is capable of annihilating, or at least pacifying, large metropolitan areas with a single attack.

Retaliation again seems to provide the greatest assurance that gas varieties of lethality will never be employed. Perfection of an effective retaliation system is now one of the primary goals of the Pentagon. That effective retaliation demands the perfection of terrible new weapons of destruction is not easy to accept, but it is preferable to find them in U. S. warehouses than coming from containers marked USSR.

Remarks To Irk a Dentist

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a dentist gets tired of hearing:

"Here's one that will jaw you."

"Seen any interesting new teeth lately?"

"London bridge is falling down—and so is yours."

"Generally speaking, I prefer a local anesthetic, so long as it numbs me all over."

"Before you start to drill, let me tell you a story that will amuse you."

"Ouch!"

"Who fixes your teeth, Doc? They look awful sincere."

"Can you do anything about our daughter? She is 12 and still sucks her thumb. We don't mind but her fiance objects."

"Put the novocaine needle in the wallet, Doc. Then give me the bill."

"Since you put in the new plates I can still say Ohio okay. But whenever I try to say Mississippi out loud, cabs drive up."

"Certainly they look all right. But why is it when I laugh people around me seem so nervous?"

"They may fit your mind, Doc, but they don't fit my mouth."

"I don't quite know how to say it, doctor, but when you gave me the gas I had the strangest feeling. My, what interesting wallpaper."

"Ouch!"

"Dear Doc, the gal in your office phoned to say it was time to have my teeth cleaned. Should I bring them in—or mail them?"

"The bite looks nicer in the mirror, but I sure do miss the feeling of the teeth being together."

"You should have warned me, Doc. All I did was take one bite of an apple—and I hand you the result."

"I'd rather not have the gold show if you can help it, but if it does have to show, don't spare the carats. I deal with the public, and it is part of my job to look impressive."

"Just fix the one in front. I'm getting married soon, and after that you can fix them all. My husband-to-be works for the city."

"Doc, when I say how much I appreciate what you've done for me, I'm not just beating my gums together—or am I?"

Political Platform Nonsense

By George Sokolsky

The two political parties are not associations in the sense that members attend them and vote as individuals. They are bodies of delegations, chosen by various devices, each state determining the method of selection.

Some delegations vote as a body (the unit rule); other delegations are bound, for a number of ballots, to be faithful to a particular candidate; other delegations are uninstructed.

Those who attend conventions as delegates are not the greatest men in a particular party — most of those who sit on the platform or in boxes. The delegates are usually party hacks, locally chosen by political leaders either because of their services to the local party organizations or because of their contributions to the party. It is very rare for a delegate to be independent of his party leaders. Whenever a leader wants to, he calls a caucus and there any independent ideas which may beset a delegate are driven out of his mind.

It has often been suggested, but the idea has never been permitted to go far, that voting for candidates in the convention be done by a secret ballot. We elect Presidents, Governors, members of Congress, almost everybody by a secret ballot but at conventions a delegation is voted in public or when each delegate is polled, as it is called, it is by a viva voce vote. That is, the delegate gets up and shouts his vote — nowadays over a microphone.

A secret ballot would change the nature of the convention. In the first place, the favorite son gimmick which is a waste of time would probably disappear. The favorite son gimmick has two functions: one, it advertises a Governor or a Senator to the nation and it might possibly give such a person a chance to run for Vice President, although that is not too likely; the other function of this device is that it gives the leadership of a particular delegation an opportunity to bargain for deals.

It will be recalled that in the 1952 Republican Convention when Senator Robert A. Taft and General Eisenhower were contesting for the nomination, the California delegation, pledged to Governor Earl Warren, was known to have decided to hold out to the bitter end for Warren.

At one period of the convention before the actual voting started it looked as though Warren held the balance of power and he was being importuned by both sides not to vote for the other.

As an instance of captive delegations, reference can be made to Governor John Fine of Pennsylvania, now forgotten politically, who was presumed to control 30 votes which both sides were seeking. The Governor himself could not be found. He had made his bargain, whatever it was.

The secret ballot would obviate all this. The candidates would be lined up in voting machines and the delegates would vote and the highest man would win. The delegates could then go home and the Bosses would probably drop dead.

Another thing about conventions is the long argument anent the platform. These are enormous documents, running to 10,000 or more words, covering every detail of the political, social and economic life of the nation. The platform is usually drawn up by a committee of one representative from each state. Few who serve on such committees know what they are doing. There subcommittees and some of them hire experts.

The platforms are badly written and badly edited documents I have recently gone over about a dozen of them, covering a long period in our history. On the whole, they are worthless: documents, unrealistically drawn, incapable of being implemented, couched in uninspired language.

Would it not be simpler if each party drew up a broad statement of principles, say a 1,000 or 1,500-word document, congently prepared, sharply defined, inspirationally stated — a document which could be a guiding light to its followers?

Perhapr it is too much to ask the political parties to take their platforms seriously. If one wants to see how far a politician moves from his platform, it is only necessary to read the Democratic platform of 1932 on which Franklin D. Roosevelt ran. It preached economy; he entered upon a career of spending such as we had never before witnessed. In fact, not an item of that platform related to the New Deal.

Both parties ignore their platforms after Election Day; why bother about them before Election Day?

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HARPO MARX loves to find short cuts when he's driving a car. Bound from Los Angeles to the sun-baked desert one morning, he insisted to a friend at the wheel that he knew a little-traveled side road that would cut the time of the trip from four hours to less than three.

The friend accepted his suggestion and off they drove on the side road. Harpo hates to admit he's wrong, but after hours of steady but unproductive driving he finally conceded, "I guess we're lost."

"What makes you think so?" asked the friend sarcastically.

"For one thing," observed Harpo, "it's snowing."

Akron Union Aide Accused in Forgery

KRON, Ohio (AP)—Jack Humphrey, ousted as business agent and president of Teamsters Union Local 335 (taxicab drivers), was charged with forgery and embezzlement in warrants sworn out by the police prosecutor's office today.

He was accused of writing at least eight checks against the local for $375 and forging the name of a union trustee, Leroy H. Baldwin.

The local's members, in a meeting Monday night, took the presidency away from Humphrey, charging him with neglect of duty and incompetence. He earlier had been deposed as business manager. He held the dual posts since March 1959.

Youth Steals To Buy Car

CINCINNATI (AP) — A glossy used car, sitting in a lot, was the lure that spurred Willie Rogers, 18, to a series of burglaries, police reported Tuesday night. Officers arrested the youth and said he admitted eight burglaries to obtain money to buy the car. But he netted less than $200.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The scheduled debate between Sens. John F. Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey in the West Virginia presidential primary should, in a sense, be a kind of beauty contest. But not quite.

The two senators are like a pair of salesmen from the same company (the Democratic party), with the same label on their suitcases (liberal), asking the customers to make a choice.

There isn't much to choose between their ideas on the kind of administration they say the country needs. They're pretty much the same. The choice to some extent would have to revolve more around personality than programs.

But the loser in the May 10 West Virginia primary will probably blame his loss on more than the way he parts his hair.

The two men tramped through trimmed Humphrey but refused a challenge to debate him. Kennedy explains he thought "it would be harmful to the party and candidates."

Perhaps a much more persuasive factor in his thinking then was the belief he could wallop Humphrey without going through a debate. The polls at the time indicated he was out in front. He won by more than 100,000 votes.

In West Virginia—where Kennedy seems to have tougher going than in Wisconsin—he says he accepted the second Humphrey debate challenge because of the attacks on him.

The two men's views, because they are rather similar, may not be an important factor in swaying West Virginia voters. But the sight of the two men in action and close up will provide a chance to weigh their presidential looks.

But even if the primary results force one of the other to give up his presidential hopes, the loser is apt to place the blame on something besides the debate.

Kennedy as a loser might feel, for instance, that his Catholicism, which didn't keep him from winning in Wisconsin where 30 per cent of the people are Catholic, was what killed him in West Virginia where the Catholics are only 5 per cent.

Or, he might explain a defeat by reasoning he was ganged-up on—that the backers of three other presidential hopefuls—Adlai E. Stevenson and Sens. Stuart Symington and Lyndon B. Johnson—eamed up to help Humphrey win in order to knock Kennedy out of the race altogether.

This would have to be based on a theory that Humphrey has no chance at the Democratic convention to get the nomination and that Kennedy, unless stopped soon might be unstoppable.

Humphrey, who knows that there seems to be a general opinion he can't get the nomination, would have to think closer to home to explain a defeat for him since neither the Catholic vote nor a gang-up would figure in his downfall.

Toledo Books Rally Backing Negro Effort

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A community-wide rally to protest segregation at lunch counters in southern cities will be held here May 9.

Plans for the rally were made Monday at a meeting of about 50 labor, religious and civic leaders summoned by Mayor Michael Damas.

The community protest is the first of its kind, said local officials of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People. Plans for the rally grew out of an appeal by the national NAACP, which asked its local chapters to picket and boycott chain variety stores involved in the lunch counter disputes.

Sponsors of the rally in Civic Auditorium hope for a crowd of at least 2,600 persons and seek to raise $10,000 for the legal defense of southern students arrested as a result of lunch counter demonstrations.

Business Needs Push Now Off Dead Center

Industry Awaiting Pickup in Orders Of Capital Goods

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analayst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business is looking today for the push that will get it off dead center.

Good Easter sales were welcome. But industrialists say it will take a pickup in capital goods orders and construction awards to start the upward climb again. These are yet to become part of the record.

And meantime the stock market watches the profit reports and the industrial output trends.

The consumer goes on spending. But he can't do much more. In most cases he already is committing about all the cash and credit he can. In some lines of work he has less to spend than a few months back. Wages in industry are off by 600 million dollars on an annual basis, and farm incomes off by 400 million dollars annually.

The statistics on total personal income manage to pull ahead a bit. But that is due to increases in government salaries, and to such things as increased unemployment benefits and personal interest income.

This doesn't add up to bad times, by any means. Total employment is high. Total personal income is high. Industrial output is still high by any standards, even including the peak set at the turn of the year.

Credit isn't easy enough to incite fears of another inflationary upsurge of prices. But it isn't as tight as it was, either, relieving some of the worries of those who thought it might hamstring economic growth.

The corporate profit reports now coming in at a great rate are as mixed as the economic outlook itself.

Where will the nudge come from to get business off dead center?

Congressmen are busy these days offering ideas on that.

One school of thought is that the government should spend more, should do some pump priming to create jobs, should make credit much easier and interest rates lower. They point to all the facilities that Americans would like to have and enjoy, and say that now is the time to furnish them.

The other school says that healthy growth will come through private channels. They think the best way to stimulate private efforts toward economic growth would be to make saving more profitable—since out of savings come the funds to invest in new business projects.

This would involve keeping interest rates as high as they are, or even letting them go higher as the demand dictates. But in financial circles are some who think business will start going upward again only when the need for more production is evident.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Be an Understanding Mother

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 18. She's been going with a boy who is 21 for about a year. She attends college here in town and he works out of town. He writes to her regularly.

I am not the kind of mother who snoops through her daughter's things. But yesterday, while cleaning her room, I saw a letter from the boy lying opened on her desk. I read it. Abby, it made my face turn red. He wrote things that only a man would write to his wife. Now I am wondering how long this has been going on. I can't let my daughter know I read that letter, yet I feel I should talk to her about its contents. Should I write to the boy and ask him to explain himself to me? I can't sit back and do nothing. I could just cry. I need your advice.

RED-FACED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You shouldn't have read the letter. But since you did—tell your daughter. This is no time for a battle or a long lecture on how "bad" she is. If you show yourself to be a truly understanding mother, it can strengthen the relationship between you and your daughter. Tell her, with love and kindness, that one step down calls for another, and if she wants the respect of a worth while man, she will control her emotions and demand that the boy do the same.

DEAR ABBY: I've spent 26 years as a service dependent. First as a daughter and now as a Marine wife. I've been in eleven countries and in most of the 50 states, and nothing bothers me more than the women who can't wait for their husbands to shove off so they can run around.

In Navy towns you can tell which ships are at sea by who's wife is in the local bars. These gals make up only about 2 per cent of the service dependent population but they give us all a bad name.

For the most part we are respectable women who are proud of our men. They are as important as doctors and lawyers for they are defending life and justice for all of us. Please print this to wake up the disgusting 2 per cent.

A PROUD MARINE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: And a 21-gun salute to you—and the 98 per cent.

DEAR ABBY: At the moment I am going steady with a boy I can't stand. I know for a fact I could get a cuter boy, but nobody will ask me out while I'm going steady with this creep.

I have been trying to keep from accepting any more dates with my steady, but I can never think up a good excuse fast enough. I have hinted like mad but nothing works. Go any ideas?

CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: Just gather your courage, take a deep breath and say, "Oscar (or whatever his name is), I think we had better break up. I want you to date others, and so will I." And don't wait around for an argument or you'll get one. Then tell one or two girl friends, and you won't have to put an ad in the school paper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SAN MATEO SWEETHEARTS: Marriage between first cousins IS permitted in the state of California. Good luck.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Auto License Money Is Headed for Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first distribution of 1960 auto license money will go to cities, villages and counties within a few days, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported today.

He said check-writing will start as soon as the Bureau of Motor Vehicles submits its vouchers showing the amounts due each county and municipality. The bureau paid 42 million dollars into the auto registration fund.

30 Parents Visit Walnut School Tuesday

Thirty parents took time off from their busy pursuits to visit their school at Walnut Twp. yesterday.

They were taking part in a planned visitation week at the school. Most of these mothers have children in the first three grades.

After visiting with their children in their respective grades, the mothers were conducted in groups to other departments of the school.

Some of the comments made by the mothers were— "It has been a successful day, I have been impressed."

• • •

ANOTHER commented on the fact that the mothers got better acquainted and thought it would help in our next years' Parent Teachers Assn. program.

Another lady said — "We all have one thing in common — the children."

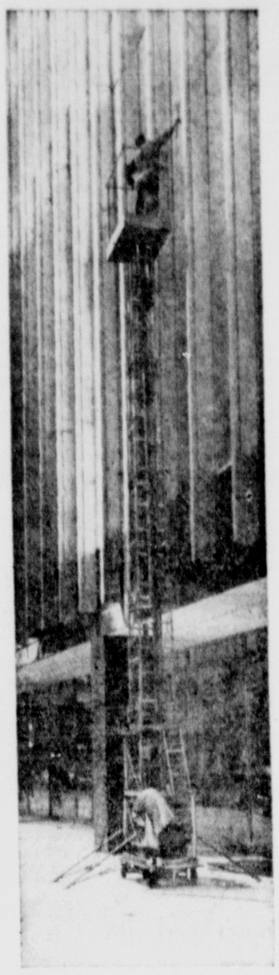

Remarks of this sort were common and school officials are sure these ladies and the two gentlemen who spent the day with them are glad that they took the time. Officials are sure that they will come again.

They are looking forward expectantly to the next two days of visitation.

Following is a list of guests Tuesday: Kay Wesler, Kathryn Leonard, Mrs. Neil L. Reed and children, Mrs. Earl C. Reed, Jerry Neff, Mrs. Lee E. Sherman, Mrs. Leonard W. Brady, Mrs. Frank Clay, Jr., Mrs. Merle Presler and sons, Mrs. Paul Berry and daughter;

Mrs. Russ Clevenger, Mrs. Albert Friend, Mrs. Elmer Roberts, Mrs. David H. Dill, Mrs. Emerson Hoffhines, Mrs. Melvin Bixler, Mrs. Ralph McCain, Mrs. Homer Reber, Mrs. Robert Pontius, Mrs. John Brinker and children;

Mrs. Paul Williams and daughter, Mrs. Paul Riegel and daughter, Mrs. Howard Fridley, Mrs. James Moody, Mrs. Ward Thompson, Mrs. John Moody, Mrs. Dearl Porter, Kenneth Riegel, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Edward Weik and Mrs. Joe Hoover.

Bender Ready for Campaign To Be Ohio GOP Delegate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohioans may be hearing a lot from George H. Bender between now and May 1. He is opening a drive for votes this week that he hopes will send him to the Republican national convention.

As the former Ohio senator explained it the other day to a reporter:

"I'm starting out in my car Thursday, and I'll be on the road until May 1. It will be a physical impossibility to hit all of Ohio's 88 counties, but I've already been in 20 and I plan to be in a lot more.

"I'm going to pay particular attention to cities like Cincinnati, Dayton, Akron, Columbus, Mansfield, Youngstown and Steubenville."

All this activity, of course, stems from Bender's determination—and he is a determined man—to win delegate-at-large votes running against the regular Ohio GOP slate of delegates.

He has to do it that way if he wants to go to the convention. Regular Ohio Republicans refused to select him as a candidate. One reason for the refusal may have been that Bender used to work, at $250 a day, as a consultant to a scandal - tainted labor leader, James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters.

But Bender is trying, at least, to turn what appears to be a disadvantage of having worked for Hoffa to his own uses.

In other words, his campaign argument will be: Bender stands for the working man or, as he puts it, "God's little people," but too many Ohio Republican leaders have forgotten him.

Bender is making this point perfectly clear in letters he is preparing to fire by the thousands around Ohio.

In these letters, he is saying that the Republican Party is doomed to be forever a minority party unless it makes a strong effort to enlist the support of the working man.

"We are not winning new votes," Bender says in this letter. "We have virtually surrendered labor votes to the Democrats . . . I am a candidate to plead the cause of the people we have forgotten and who are forgetting us."

Bender says he will state his case to as many newspapers as he can, and that he hopes to go on television, too.

"However, I don't expect to exceed the spending limit, which is $4,000," he says.

There may be an additional point to all this.

If the Ohio Legislature doesn't redistrict Ohio for Congress, the new census probably will give the state an added congressman-at-large. Bender decidedly is interested in running for that.

Over New York City, 80 per cent of all lightning bolts travel up not down, because Manhattan is suffering from the spires of tall buildings charged with electricity.

Crows Given Blame For Missing Eggs

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Eleven poisoned eggs which turned up missing at a horticultural park apparently were swiped by crows, a park official said today.

Dr. Raymond C. Allen, director of the park, said eggshell fragments, representing an estimated five of the 11 eggs, have been found outside the restricted area where the eggs were placed to poison rats and other pesky varmints.

Dr. Allen said he is practically sure crows dropped the shells outside the fence.

There had been concern that children might have picked up the eggs during an Easter sunrise service at the park. No illness have been reported. The eggs were treated with ordinary rat poison.

Business Needs Push Now Off Dead Center

Industry Awaiting Pickup in Orders Of Capital Goods

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analayst

NEW YORK (AP)—Business is looking today for the push that will get it off dead center.

Good Easter sales were welcome. But industrialists say it will take a pickup in capital goods orders and construction awards to start the upward climb again. These are yet to become part of the record.

And meantime the stock market watches the profit reports and the industrial output trends.

The consumer goes on spending. But he can't do much more. In most cases he already is committing about all the cash and credit he can. In some lines of work he has less to spend than a few months back. Wages in industry are off by 600 million dollars on an annual basis, and farm incomes off by 400 million dollars annually.

The statistics on total personal income manage to pull ahead a bit. But that is due to increases in government salaries, and to such things as increased unemployment benefits and personal interest income.

This doesn't add up to bad times, by any means. Total employment is high. Total personal income is high. Industrial output is still high by any standards, even including the peak set at the turn of the year.

Credit isn't easy enough to incite fears of another inflationary upsurge of prices. But it isn't as tight as it was, either, relieving some of the worries of those who thought it might hamstring economic growth.

The corporate profit reports now coming in at a great rate are as mixed as the economic outlook itself.

Where will the nudge come from to get business off dead center?

Congressmen are busy these days offering ideas on that.

One school of thought is that the government should spend more, should do some pump priming to create jobs, should make credit much easier and interest rates lower. They point to all the facilities that Americans would like to have and enjoy, and say that now is the time to furnish them.

The other school says that healthy growth will come through private channels. They think the best way to stimulate private efforts toward economic growth would be to make saving more profitable—since out of savings come the funds to invest in new business projects.

This would involve keeping interest rates as high as they are, or even letting them go higher as the demand dictates. But in financial circles are some who think business will start going upward again only when the need for more production is evident.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Be an Understanding Mother

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 18. She's been going with a boy who is 21 for about a year. She attends college here in town and he works out of town. He writes to her regularly.

I am not the kind of mother who snoops through her daughter's things. But yesterday, while cleaning her room, I saw a letter from the boy lying opened on her desk. I read it. Abby, it made my face turn red. He wrote things that only a man would write to his wife. Now I am wondering how long this has been going on. I can't let my daughter know I read that letter, yet I feel I should talk to her about its contents. Should I write to the boy and ask him to explain himself to me? I can't sit back and do nothing. I could just cry. I need your advice.

RED-FACED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You shouldn't have read the letter. But since you did—tell your daughter. This is no time for a battle or a long lecture on how "bad" she is. If you show yourself to be a truly understanding mother, it can strengthen the relationship between you and your daughter. Tell her, with love and kindness, that one step down calls for another, and if she wants the respect of a worth while man, she will control her emotions and demand that the boy do the same.

DEAR ABBY: I've spent 26 years as a service dependent. First as a daughter and now as a Marine wife. I've been in eleven countries and in most of the 50 states, and nothing bothers me more than the women who can't wait for their husbands to shove off so they can run around.

In Navy towns you can tell which ships are at sea by who's wife is in the local bars. These gals make up only about 2 per cent of the service dependent population but they give us all a bad name.

For the most part we are respectable women who are proud of our men. They are as important as doctors and lawyers for they are defending life and justice for all of us. Please print this to wake up the disgusting 2 per cent.

A PROUD MARINE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: And a 21-gun salute to you—and the 98 per cent.

DEAR ABBY: At the moment I am going steady with a boy I can't stand. I know for a fact I could get a cuter boy, but nobody will ask me out while I'm going steady with this creep.

I have been trying to keep from accepting any more dates with my steady, but I can never think up a good excuse fast enough. I have hinted like mad but nothing works. Go any ideas?

CHICKEN

DEAR CHICKEN: Just gather your courage, take a deep breath and say, "Oscar (or whatever his name is), I think we had better break up. I want you to date others, and so will I." And don't wait around for an argument or you'll get one. Then tell one or two girl friends, and you won't have to put an ad in the school paper.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SAN MATEO SWEETHEARTS: Marriage between first cousins IS permitted in the state of California. Good luck.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Auto License Money Is Headed for Cities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The first distribution of 1960 auto license money will go to cities, villages and counties within a few days, State Auditor James A. Rhodes reported today.

He said check-writing will start as soon as the Bureau of Motor Vehicles submits its vouchers showing the amounts due each county and municipality. The bureau paid 42 million dollars into the auto registration fund.

30 Parents Visit Walnut School Tuesday

Thirty parents took time off from their busy pursuits to visit their school at Walnut Twp. yesterday.

They were taking part in a planned visitation week at the school. Most of these mothers have children in the first three grades.

After visiting with their children in their respective grades, the mothers were conducted in groups to other departments of the school.

Some of the comments made by the mothers were— "It has been a successful day, I have been impressed."

* * *

ANOTHER commented on the fact that the mothers got better acquainted and thought it would help in our next years' Parent Teachers Assn. program.

Another lady said — "We all have one thing in common — the children."

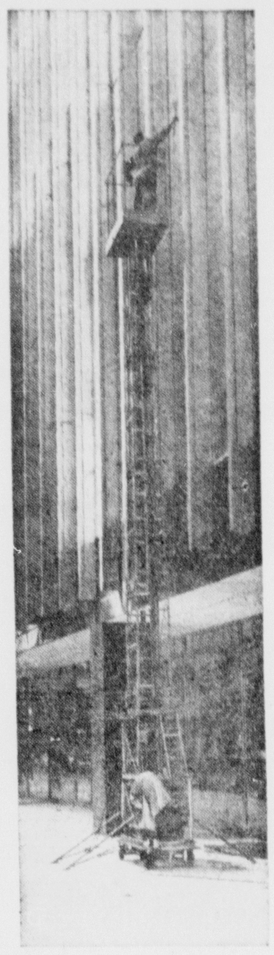

Remarks of this sort were common and school officials are sure these ladies and the two gentlemen who spent the day with them are glad that they took the time. Officials are sure that they will come again.

They are looking forward expectantly to the next two days of visitation.

Following is a list of guests Tuesday: Kay Wesler, Kathryn Leonard, Mrs. Neil L. Reed and children, Mrs. Earl C. Reed, Jerry Neff, Mrs. Lee E. Sherman, Mrs. Leonard W. Brady, Mrs. Frank Clay, Jr., Mrs. Merle Presler and sons, Mrs. Paul Berry and daughter;

Mrs. Russ Clevenger, Mrs. Albert Friend, Mrs. Elmer Roberts, Mrs. David H. Dill, Mrs. Emerson Hoffhines, Mrs. Melvin Bixler, Mrs. Ralph McCain, Mrs. Homer Reber, Mrs. Robert Pontius, Mrs. John Brinker and children;

Mrs. Paul Williams and daughter, Mrs. Paul Riegel and daughter, Mrs. Howard Fridley, Mrs. James Moody, Mrs. Ward Thompson, Mrs. John Moody, Mrs. Dearl Porter, Kenneth Riegel, Mrs. Robert Miller, Mrs. Edward Weik and Mrs. Joe Hoover.

Bender Ready for Campaign To Be Ohio GOP Delegate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohioans may be hearing a lot from George H. Bender between now and May 1. He is opening a drive for votes this week that he hopes will send him to the Republican national convention.

As the former Ohio senator explained it the other day to a reporter:

"I'm starting out in my car Thursday, and I'll be on the road until May 1. It will be a physical impossibility to hit all of Ohio's 88 counties, but I've already been in 20 and I plan to be in a lot more.

"I'm going to pay particular attention to cities like Cincinnati, Dayton, Akron, Columbus, Mansfield, Youngstown and Steubenville."

All this activity, of course, stems from Bender's determination—and he is a determined man—to win delegate-at-large votes running against the regular Ohio GOP slate of delegates.

He has to do it that way if he wants to go to the convention. Regular Ohio Republicans refused to select him as a candidate. One reason for the refusal may have been that Bender used to work, at $250 a day, as a consultant to a scandal - tainted labor leader, James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters.

But Bender is trying, at least, to turn what appears to be a disadvantage of having worked for Hoffa to his own uses.

In other words, his campaign argument will be: Bender stands for the working man or, as he puts it, "God's little people," but too many Ohio Republican leaders have forgotten him.

Bender is making this point perfectly clear in letters he is preparing to fire by the thousands around Ohio.

In these letters, he is saying that the Republican Party is doomed to be forever a minority party unless it makes a strong effort to enlist the support of the working man.

"We are not winning new votes," Bender says in this letter. "We have virtually surrendered labor votes to the Democrats . . . I am a candidate to plead the cause of the people we have forgotten and who are forgetting us."

Bender says he will state his case to as many newspapers as he can, and that he hopes to go on television, too.

"However, I don't expect to exceed the spending limit, which is $4,000," he says.

There may be an additional point to all this.

If the Ohio Legislature doesn't redistrict Ohio for Congress, the new census probably will give the state an added congressman-at-large. Bender decidedly is interested in running for that.

Over New York City, 80 per cent of all lightning bolts travel up not down, because Manhattan is surfrom the spires of tall buildings, per charged with electricity.

'60 All-America Mum Choice Made

Mum fanciers watch for the All America Mum Selections with greatest interest each year. Winners for 1960 have been announced.

They are "Headliner" and "Mardi Gras" two colorful decoratives and "Pink Cherub" a pompon.

"Headliner" is a glowing terra cotta when in bud and opens to a walnut coral.

"Mardi Gras" is a big cactus flowered mum, a red and gold bicolor that seems to constantly change in color.

• • •

"PINK Cherub" will give scores of honeycomb blooms in a purplish pink of light tint with a reddish purple center.

Twenty judges in different parts of the country are responsible for the three selections all of which scored higher than any previous entries since the mum trials were established in 1958.

One of the pleasant things about growing chrysanehtmums is that they do not compete with the spring planting of so many other flowers. Take your time about getting mums out in the garden. Late June is actually time enough.

But ordering the new All America selections is a different matter. Don't wait too long to place an order with your favorite plantsman or garden center.

Mum growers have been enthusiastic about all American Selections in the past.

1958 winners include the large sparkling rose decorative 'Showpiece' 4-5 inches across; the 2½-3 inch tangerine bronze 'Burning Bronze'; the 3-4 inch golden yellow 'Emperor'; the rich red 2 inch, cushion type 'Ruby King'.

• • •

1959 WINNERS were the large 2½-3½ inch lively lavender cushion mum 'Flair'; the 2-3 inch double brilliant red cushion 'Crimson Lady'; the 3½ inch coral-rose decorative 'Girl Friend'.

On 1960 winners, brand new introductions, let us have more detail.

'Headliner' truly is a superb mum, a certain winner, a floral masterpiece. Matchless quality attends amazing liberality of large decorative blooms. The 2 ft. nattily erect clump is richly clad in dark green foliage. Without disbudding, blossom is 3½ inches or wider, lusciously full and slightly recurving.

Glowing terra - cotta bronze buds swell to vibrant walnut-coral giants, often gold-hazed on petal reverses. There has been no color or flower like it since hallowed old Granny Scovill but Headliner is superior in all ways. Ideal growth, marvelous sprays and tremendous production. It is early, about Sept. 25, lively, artistically faultless, wondrously different.

'Mardi Gras' is as colorful as New Orleans Mardi Gras. Huge, to 4 and 4½ inches across, very double cactus - like decorative type flowers appear in several different strong reddish orange hues and finally age to pleasing shades of golden yellow. At least my first impression was of bicolor red and gold, the most colorful mum I'd ever seen. It is always attractive and a mass of colors from September until killing frosts.

Blooms are very long lasting on the plant or as cut flowers. The plant is vigorous, upright and compact, 1½ to 2 feet tall with 2 to 2½ foot spread. The large healthy foliage is a rich medium green.

'Pink Cherub' has a very compact plant of 12 to 16 inch height and it blankets its rounded bushy form with small, 1 to 1½ inch pompon type blooms.

These finely meshed honeycomb-like globular flowers are borne in clusters on short strong stems. A dwarf, branching plant, cut flowers are taken in sprays, which are profusely covered with masses of bloom.

Plant Your Own Dahlias

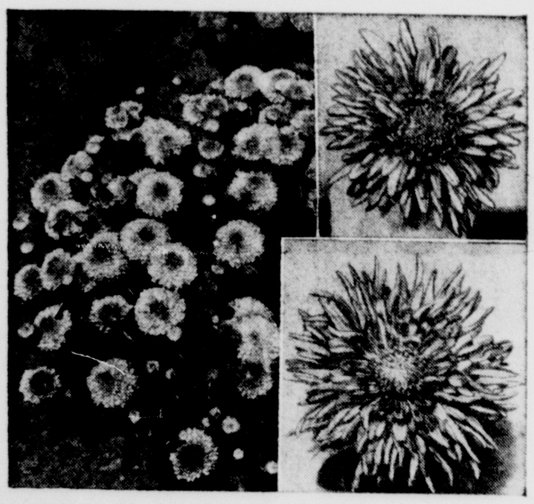

Albert Parella, owner of Parella Dahlia Gardens, New York City urges his customers to try dahlia growing from seed. He himself has excellent luck.

When weather is warm enough (usually about April 1) he suggests that you dig a row eight inches deep in a sunny spot in your garden. Rake the soil until it is finely broken and not lumpy. Then with a hoe make trenches about four inches deep and 12 inches apart.

Place seed about every two inches and cover to a depth of one half inch. Water lightly and cover with two or three inches of peatmoss. About May 1st remove the peatmoss. You will see tiny dahlia plants breaking through.

Add a little soil to the trench and around the plants so they will get better and stronger root formation. When plants are about four or five inches above the ground and showing two or three sets or leaves it is time to transplant.

If the gardener plants carefully selected seeds all sorts of surprises await him.

It's Cheaper To Grow Fruit

New Dwarf Trees Are Attractive

Dwarf fruit trees have been highly developed, with new varieties on dwarf understocks coming out each year.

Dwarf fruit trees provide an opportunity for even the small suburban home to have its full complement of the better fruits, which, when tree-ripened, offer a new family experience in how fresh and tasty these fruits can be.

Of course standard, or large fruit trees give by far the heavier production of fruits and usually are preferred where there is the space for them.

The dwarf trees occupy very little space, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Planted on ten - foot centers, a plot 20 x 20 feet will take nine trees, a small home orchard of different fruits.

For a family of four, four to five trees will supply plenty of fruit for the table. The fruits are as delicious as fruits from standard, or large trees.

• • •

THE smaller trees due to their low heights are easy to spray. They can be sprayed when needed with the usual spray gun, filled with a recommended all-purpose insecticide.

It only takes a short time to spray fruit trees depending on the number planted; spray once, when dormant, and then a few times from blossomtime on. Your nurseryman will recommend good all-purpose sprays and the exact times to spray.

Dwarf fruit trees bear some fruit usually the second year after planting and continue to bear for many years. And the fruit is absolutely fresh, something that is hard to find if not impossible in retail markets where fruit comes to the market half green.

Fresh, home-picked fruits not only are more delicious, but also contain more vitamins.

Everyone should have at least some dwarf or standard fruit trees growing on his property if for no other reason than to know how delicious tree-ripened fruits can be.

• • •

FOR THE small property owner, there is no standing on ladders to pick dwarf fruits!

Most of them can be harvested by anyone of normal height standing on the ground. Just reach up and select the best sun-ripened fruit on the tree and then clamp your teeth into it, or carry it to the family table, as preferred.

Taxman Gets $500 More Mysteriously

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It would appear that someone in these parts has a guilty conscience —$6,400 worth, so far.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has received another $500 from that unknown person. Similar contributions, wrapped in plain paper and with a fictitious return address, have been arriving at the Columbus IRS office since 1945.

The handwriting always is the same. The 1945 package contained $300 in currency. Nothing in 1946. Then $300 again in 1947. Each year from 1938 through 1954, the amount was $400. Since then, it has been $500.

As usual, IRS District Director Philipp Charles put the 1960 donation in the conscience fund.

U.S. Musical Show Is Hailed in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — "My Fair Lady" is the hottest show in Moscow following a triumphal opening before a capacity audience Monday night at the Red Army theater.

Both Pravda and Izvestia declared the musical score a "great success."

The language barrier appeared to be forgotten as the elite audience sat enthralled by George Bernard Shaw's story of Prof. Higgins and Eliza Doolittle set to music.

Grose, Last of a Breed, To Retire from Brehmers

Raymond S. Grose, 814 N. Court St., will retire this month after more than 29 years as grower at Brehmer Greenhouses.

According to Robert L. Brehmer, greenhouse owner, Grose is that rare person, the irreplaceable man.

What's more the head of the Floriculture Department at Ohio State University said the same thing of Grose.

A general line grower, Grose specialies in many varieties of ornamentals and vegetables. Flower specialties include carnations, chrysanthemums, sweetpeas, snapdragons, stock, poinsettias, cyclamen, and Easter crops, chief of which is the Easter lily. And he's just as interested and successful with vegetables.

• • •

NOT TOO long ago Grose met a friend and colleague. The friend put his arm around Grose's shoulder and said, "You know, Grose, we are just about the last of the old breed."

And it's true. General line growers are passing out of the picture giving way to specialists in one line.

Grose was reared on a small farm. He started his greenhouse career at the age of 11 when he found himself a job as greenhouse helper.

At 15 he had secured a steady position in a greenhouse and was "on his own" and self supporting. From that time to this he has worked in greenhouses as grower or foreman, sometimes in both capacities.

His career was interrupted only once and that was when he served in the armed forces in World War I.

He came to Circleville, an experienced grower after having managed a chain of greenhouses in Iowa for six years. He also had been foreman for two years in an Ann Arbor greenhouse and another two years in a Grand Rapids greenhouse.

• • •

A GROWER develops many interesting varieties of flowers and plants but Grose believes that he is proudest of his Mortgage Lifter tomato. This is an excellent tomato developed from an unnamed variety given him by his brother and crossed and recrossed with the meaty Ox Heart. Mortgage Lifters are thought by many people to be the perfect tomato.

Grose named the variety. He was showing his brother one of the newly developed tomatoes. The brother looked at the tomato, tested its weight by lifting it in his hand and said, "You've got a real mortgage lifter here".

Grose said, "That's it. We've named it"

Brehmer said of Grose that his exact timing of crops was remarkable. Timing is most important to a commercial florist. An Easter lily, on Easter Monday is just no good.

But ever since Grose started growing Easter lilies for Brehmer Greenhouses his timing has been perfect. This year, with all its cold weather and overcast skies is no exception. There were Easter lilies for Easter.

Brehmer Greenhouses have long been noted for its many varieties of flowers. The number of different ornamentals grown is large. Fellow florists have commented on this, especially since the greenhouses do not cover an extensive area. They claim it's the special soil.

• • •

BREHMER says it's not the soil, it's Grose's composting know-how. Grose made the soil that grows the many varieties of ornamentals and vegetables in a more or less small space.

Grose says growing greenhouse crops is considerable worry. No matter how well the soil is steam-sterilized and no matter what care is taken still crops are subject to disease and insect damage. It takes constant watching. He can always cure the plant ailment if he catches it in time.

"They've got cures for everything now" he said.

That's why he lives next to the greenhouse. He keeps an ever-vigilant eye on his plants.

We asked Grose if he'd miss his plants and the spacious brick house where he has lived for so long.

Grose says he won't miss the worrying he does about all his plants. And as far as the house is concerned it's a little too spacious for two people.

• • •

THE GROSES plan an extended vacation. They will visit their two married daughters, one of whom lives in Akron and the other in Dallas, Tex.

And they plan eventually to settle in Little Rock, Ark.

Grose was the first commander of the VFW here and served two terms in the capacity of commander. He is a member of the American Legion. He and Mrs. Grose both belong to the Nebraska Grange.

When Grose retires it means another of the fast diminishing breed of general growers is stepping aside.

Black Spot Banished by New Fungicide

According to M. E. Noggle, local rosarian, a favorite old rose, Gruss-an-Teplitz, is often subject to black spot. Last summer he controlled this troublesome blight even on Gruss-an-Teplitz by the use of Phaltan.

It is the best fungicide yet on market, he thinks, for powdery mildew and black spot.

The new product, developed by California Spray-Chemical Corporation, contains 75 per cent Ortho Phaltan, a specific against black spot and mildew.

Four years of exhaustive field testing bear out the claim that Ortho Rose & Garden Fungicide is generally superior to other fungicides available against these same troubles.

U. S. D. A. workers at the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md., report it gave virtually 100 per cent control when applied weekly according to directions.

In treating rose plants with Phaltan against black spot, powdery mildew or rust, the home gardener should make the first applications when young leaves make their appearance.

The treatment with a Phaltan solution in the proportion of 1½ level tablespoons of rose fungicide to 1 gallon of water should be repeated at seven - day intervals throughout the growing season.

• • •

THE NEW rose and garden fungicide has the added advantage of an inoffensive though distinctive odor. It is compatible when combined with Improved Isotox and many other insecticides and fungicides.

This results in an "all - purpose" spray capable of stopping a wide variety of common pests as well as these fungus troubles.

Phaltan is also extremely effective aginst leaf spot of chrysanthemums and iris, carnation rust, and gladiolus corm rot. In treating against chrysanthemum leaf spot, treatment should be started immediately after planting, and repeated at one week to ten day intervals throughout the season.

'BEST IN SHOW'—Scottish terrier "Champion Blanar Bewitching" was chosen "best in show" at the International Kennel Club show at Chicago's International amphitheater. "Champ" is owned by Mrs. Blanche Reeg of Wantaugh, N. Y.

Dwarf fruit trees provide an opportunity for even the small suburban home to have its full complement of the better fruits, which, when tree-ripened, offer a new family experience in how fresh and tasty these fruits can be.

Of course standard, or large fruit trees give by far the heavier production of fruits and usually are preferred where there is the space for them.

The dwarf trees occupy very little space, according to the American Association of Nurserymen. Planted on ten - foot centers, a plot 20 x 20 feet will take nine trees, a small home orchard of different fruits.

For a family of four, four to five trees will supply plenty of fruit for the table. The fruits are as delicious as fruits from standard, or large trees.

* * *

THE smaller trees due to their low heights are easy to spray. They can be sprayed when needed with the usual spray gun, filled with a recommended all-purpose insecticide.

It only takes a short time to spray fruit trees depending on the number planted; spray once, when dormant, and then a few times from blossomtime on. Your nurseryman will recommend good all-purpose sprays and the exact times to spray.

Dwarf fruit trees bear some fruit usually the second year after planting and continue to bear for many years. And the fruit is absolutely fresh, something that is hard to find if not impossible in retail markets where fruit comes to the market half green.

Fresh, home-picked fruits not only are more delicious, but also contain more vitamins.

Everyone should have at least some dwarf or standard fruit trees growing on his property if for no other reason than to know how delicious tree-ripened fruits can be.

* * *

FOR THE small property owner, there is no standing on ladders to pick dwarf fruits!

Most of them can be harvested by anyone of normal height standing on the ground. Just reach up and select the best sun-ripened fruit on the tree and then clamp your teeth into it, or carry it to the family table, as preferred.

Taxman Gets $500 More Mysteriously

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It would appear that someone in these parts has a guilty conscience —$6,400 worth, so far.

The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has received another $500 from that unknown person. Similar contributions, wrapped in plain paper and with a fictitious return address, have been arriving at the Columbus IRS office since 1945.

The handwriting always is the same. The 1945 package contained $300 in currency. Nothing in 1946. Then $300 again in 1947. Each year from 1938 through 1954, the amount was $400. Since then, it has been $500.

As usual, IRS District Director Philipp Charles put the 1960 donation in the conscience fund.

U.S. Musical Show Is Hailed in Moscow

MOSCOW (AP) — "My Fair Lady" is the hottest show in Moscow following a triumphal opening before a capacity audience Monday night at the Red Army theater.

Both Pravda and Izvestia declared the musical score a "great success."

The language barrier appeared to be forgotten as the elite audience sat enthralled by George Bernard Shaw's story of Prof. Higgins and Eliza Doolittle set to music.

Grose, Last of a Breed, To Retire from Brehmers

Raymond S. Grose, 814 N. Court St., will retire this month after more than 29 years as grower at Brehmer Greenhouses.

According to Robert L. Brehmer, greenhouse owner, Grose is that rare person, the irreplaceable man.

What's more the head of the Floriculture Department at Ohio State University said the same thing of Grose.

A general line grower, Grose specialies in many varieties of ornamentals and vegetables. Flower specialties include carnations, chrysanthemums, sweetpeas, snapdragons, stock, poinsettias, cyclamen, and Easter crops, chief of which is the Easter lily. And he's just as interested and successful with vegetables.

* * *

NOT TOO long ago Grose met a friend and colleague. The friend put his arm around Grose's shoulder and said, "You know, Grose, we are just about the last of the old breed."

And it's true. General line growers are passing out of the picture giving way to specialists in one line.

Grose was reared on a small farm. He started his greenhouse career at the age of 11 when he found himself a job as greenhouse helper.

At 15 he had secured a steady position in a greenhouse and was "on his own" and self supporting. From that time to this he has worked in greenhouses as grower or foreman, sometimes in both capacities.

His career was interrupted only once and that was when he served in the armed forces in World War I.

He came to Circleville, an experienced grower after having managed a chain of greenhouses in Iowa for six years. He also had been foreman for two years in an Ann Arbor greenhouse and another two years in a Grand Rapids greenhouse.

* * *

A GROWER develops many interesting varieties of flowers and plants but Grose believes that he is proudest of his Mortgage Lifter tomato. This is an excellent tomato developed from an unnamed variety given him by his brother and crossed and recrossed with the meaty Ox Heart. Mortgage Lifters are thought by many people to be the perfect tomato.

Grose named the variety. He was showing his brother one of the newly developed tomatoes. The brother looked at the tomato, tested its weight by lifting it in his hand and said, "You've got a real mortgage lifter here".

Grose said, "That's it. We've named it"

Brehmer said of Grose that his exact timing of crops was remarkable. Timing is most important to a commercial florist. An Easter lily, on Easter Monday is just no good.

But ever since Grose started growing Easter lilies for Brehmer Greenhouses his timing has been perfect. This year, with all its cold weather and overcast skies is no exception. There were Easter lilies for Easter.

Brehmer Greenhouses have long been noted for its many varieties of flowers. The number of different ornamentals grown is large. Fellow florists have commented on this, especially since the greenhouses do not cover an extensive area. They claim it's the special soil.

* * *

BREHMER says it's not the soil, it's Grose's composting know-how. Grose made the soil that grows the many varieties of ornamentals and vegetables in a more or less small space.

Grose says growing greenhouse crops is considerable worry. No matter how well the soil is steamsterilized and no matter what care is taken still crops are subject to disease and insect damage. It takes constant watching. He can always cure the plant ailment if he catches it in time.

"They've got cures for everything now" he said.

That's why he lives next to the greenhouse. He keeps an ever-vigilant eye on his plants.

We asked Grose if he'd miss his plants and the spacious brick house where he has lived for so long.

Grose says he won't miss the worrying he does about all his plants. And as far as the house is concerned it's a little too spacious for two people.

* * *

THE GROSES plan an extended vacation. They will visit their two married daughters, one of whom lives in Akron and the other in Dallas, Tex.

And they plan eventually to settle in Little Rock, Ark.

Grose was the first commander of the VFW here and served two terms in the capacity of commander. He is a member of the American Legion. He and Mrs. Grose both belong to the Nebraska Grange.

When Grose retires it means another of the fast diminishing breed of general growers is stepping aside.

Black Spot Banished by New Fungicide

According to M. E. Noggle, local rosarian, a favorite old rose, Gruss-an-Teplitz, is often subject to black spot. Last summer he controlled this troublesome blight even on Gruss-an-Teplitz by the use of Phaltan.

It is the best fungicide yet on market, he thinks, for powdery mildew and black spot.

The new product, developed by California Spray-Chemical Corporation, contains 75 per cent Ortho Phaltan, a specific against black spot and mildew.

Four years of exhaustive field testing bear out the claim that Ortho Rose & Garden Fungicide is generally superior to other fungicides available against these same troubles.

U. S. D. A. workers at the Agricultural Research Center at Beltsville, Md., report it gave virtually 100 per cent control when applied weekly according to directions.

In treating rose plants with Phaltan against black spot, powdery mildew or rust, the home gardener should make the first applications when young leaves make their appearance.

The treatment with a Phaltan solution in the proportion of 1½ level tablespoons of rose fungicide to 1 gallon of water should be repeated at seven - day intervals throughout the growing season.

* * *

THE NEW rose and garden fungicide has the added advantage of an inoffensive though distinctive odor. It is compatible when combined with Lnproved Isotox and many other insecticides and fungicides.

This results in an "all - purpose" spray capable of stopping a wide variety of common pests as well as these fungus troubles.

Phaltan is also extremely effective aginst leaf spot of chrysanthemums and iris, carnation rust, and gladiolus corm rot. In treating against chrysanthemum leaf spot, treatment should be started immediately after planting, and repeated at one week to ten day intervals throughout the season.

New Textbook For Arrangers

Flower Show Group Decrees the Change

For the last decade and more "The Complete Book of Flower Arrangement" by Rockwell and Grayson has been on the required reading list for would-be flower show judges taking the National Council Flower Show School course.

This attractive, easy - to - read book has been supplanted by a more recent publication, "The Art of Foliage and Flower Arrangement by Anna Hong Rutt.

Not many books have enjoyed the popularity of the Rockwell and Grayson book. It has been used frequently as a textbook for flower arrangement courses in colleges.

But time changes all things. Put "The Complete Book of Flower Arrangement on a hard - to - reach shelf. Buy a copy of the reigning favorite "The Art of Foliage and Flower Arrangement".

* * *

IT IS, according to its foreword, a guide for beginners and also for advanced practioners of the art of flower arrangeing.

Author Rutt was formerly head of the Art Department at Northwestern University and now teaches flower show judging for the National Council of State Garden Clubs.

The book is beautifully illustrated with arrangements made by the author. Pictures are all in black and white.

Each chapter ends with a set of problems to worked out by the reader.

Sad as it is to relegate a favorite book to the top shelf, still National Council has so decreed. The new publication gives a fresh slant on an ever-changing art. It may be found at the Pickaway County Public Library.

U.S. Census Payroll Hikes Income Total

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hiring of 170,000 census workers boosted the total income of individual Americans to a record annual rate of 393½ billion dollars last month. This was 500 million dollars above the February rate.

Because of census hiring, government payrolls rose at a 700-million-dollar annual rate during March. That more than offset cutbacks in construction, automobile, aircraft, metals and building materials industries.

Farm income declined by 400 million dollars to a 10-billion annual rate.

Only 16 Show Up To Hear DiSalle Foe

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Ray T. Miller Sr., who sponsors a slate of candidates to the Democratic national convention in opposition to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's slate, spoke Monday night at Genoa—the closest Miller's campaign has come to DiSalle's home territory.

Only 16 persons showed up at the rally organized by Oliver Testor, mayor of Genoa, which is in Ottawa County a few miles south of here.

Testor is a candidate on the Miller slate.

Garden Gossip

Miss Mary Shortridge, Route 3, received an amaryllis bulb for Christmas. This week I went out to see the amaryllis in flower. It had enormous red, five-inch flowers, seven of them, all in bloom at once.

Dutch amaryllis bulbs are expensive but when well cared for they will live year after year.

Other things were blooming at the Shortridge farm. Chionodoxa, Scilla, winter aconite, croci, species tulips (Candy Stripe), grape hyacinths, and the early daffodils.

Scilla and Chionodoxa are 3 inches high and look alike. Mary says the snow glories lift their faces up to the sun and the scilla keep their little faces turned downward.

The snow crocus, Mary Shortridge says, blooms quite a bit earlier than ordinary crocus. Her's comes in a yellow - brown bi-color and a pale mauve.

Winter aconite blooms even before the snowdrops. Mary's first started to blossom in February but discouraged by cold weather waited until April to do its real blooming.

THE BLOODROOT was just beginning to peep through the ground. Mary maintains that wild flowers have more sense than cultivated flowers. Bloodroot waited for the weather to apease before it showed up.

If you like to gab about flowers go visit the Shortridge home. Mary knows a great deal about many varieties of plant material.

Old Peter Cottontail seems to have caused a lot of trouble this winter.

Rabbits did a lot of harm at the Charlie Thompson place on Collins' Court. They feasted on tulips.

At the Emmitt Crist place the rabbits ate many young evergreens.

At the John Eshelman place, you can see pop bottles stuck in the ground among the tulip and daffodil plantings. Mrs. Eshelman says that for some reason the pop bottles discourage the rabbits.

One theory on pop bottles and rabbits is that the wind shistling over the opening in the bottles scares the rabbits off.

Incidentally, Vaughan's puts out rabbit repellant. It is claimed to be so effective that one application completely protects deciduous trees and shrubs not only during their dormant state but also during the summer.

Check with the game warden about shooting rabbits that are damaging your ornamentals. It's my understanding that it's not illegal to get tough with bad rabbits.

Incidentally, it's Ringwood Rabbit Repellant that claims to do this job on discouraging visiting rabbits.

WE INQUIRED from Mrs. Ed Fetherolf how old her Christmas cactus was. She figured it was almost 18 years old. She has it in a basement window under the restaurant in Adelphi. We regarded it as one of the most beautiful Christmas cactus we had ever seen.

Mrs. J. O. Eagleson brought rose begonia cutting to the workshop held by the Pickaway Garden Clubbers Tuesday night. This begonia has double flowers that look like little roses.

Wherever Mrs. Eagleson is there's bird talk going on.

M. E. Noggle says he is perfectly neutral about the national floral emblem hassel. But when he reported that the rose had been the overwhelming winner in the poll taken by the Florist Assn. he had a mighty triumphant gleam in his eye.

In telling about old-fashioned roses he mentioned one old favorite, "Seven Sisters". He said this was the first floribunda.

Refresh Your Memory on How To Plant Roses n Spring

It won't be a bad idea to refresh your memory on rose planting techniques even if you are an old hand at it.

No rosarians lives and gardens who doesn't add a new rose or two each year. If you are new at rose planting the techniques recommended at Kingwood Center, Mansfield are the best.

Plant roses as early as possible. If it is too wet to plant the roses in their permanent location heel them in any old place until the weather clears.

Be sure to give your bushes plenty of room, 2 - 2½ feet for hybrid teas and floribundas. If you do this, it will not only be easier to cultivate around the plants but the additional light and air will make conditions less favorable for diseases to get started.

Roses will grow in any soil. Organic material such as well-rotted manure, peat moss, compost etc., should be worked into the bed whenever the soil is especially heavy or sandy. This material should be imcorporated to at least a spade depth after having been spread evenly over the surface. Do this several weeks before planting time, if possible, to allow the soil to settle.

* * *

WHEN THE ground is ready for planting, dig a hole wide enough and deep enough to accomodate the roots without crowding so that the plants can be set at the proper height. Prune away beoken and dead roots and inspect the tops for broken canes.

If the rosebushes had not been cut back when received, the canes should be cut back to approximately 12 inches.

The roots of the rose should always be kept moist by keeping them wrapped until planted.

After digging the hole build a cone - shaped mound of soil at the bottom. Plant so that the union, a knot-like swollen area on the stalk is 1 inch below the soil level.

Spread the roots evenly on top of the soil cone and cover them with soil.

Fill the hole three - fourths full with soil and firm it thoroughly around the base of the plant. Fill and let the excess drain off.

Fill in with the remainder of the soil, mounding it as high as possible around the base of the plant to keep the canes from drying out. This protective soil mound should be removed gradually as the buds begin to swell.

New Compact Car Wave Hinted for Next Year

Detroit (AP)—L. L. (Tex) Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp. told his stockholders today that Dodge will introduce a new compact car with its 1961 models.

This was the first official confirmation of the new wave of compact cars to be offered by Dodge, Buick, Oldsmobile and Pontiac.

Trade sources have speculated for a year that the car will be a luxury version of the corporation's current compact, the Valiant.

5 Indicted in Trio of Bank Thefts

CINCINNATI (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted five men in recent Ohio bank robberies at Hamilton, Morrow and Yorkville.

Charles F. Waugaman and Daniel J. Koenig of Columbus were indicted on bank robbery charges in the $38,000 holdup last Aug. 22 of the Community Savings Bank of Yorkville.

Two men wearing false beards and dark glasses staged the holdup and herded four bank workers and three customers into a vault before escaping.

Pleas Moody Turner, 40, of Hamilton was indicted on charges he robbed a branch of Hamilton's First National Bank of $2,251 last Jan. 4.

Turner is still recuperating from a bullet wound in the head. A Hamilton County patrolman shot him at a roadblock shortly after the robbery.

Indictments were returned against Cosmo Carmine Capo, 49, Brownsville, Tex., and James E. Collins, Matamoras, Mexico, in the $5,608 robbery of Morrow's First National Bank.

After the holdup last Feb. 2, their car broke down and the two were arrested.

The first Atlantic cable was laid in 1858, but became useless about two months later due to failure of its electrical insulation.

Quemoy Leader Fears Invasion

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The garrison commander of the Quemoy Islands has canceled all military leaves, warning that the Chinese Reds may be preparing an invasion of the Nationalist outposts just off the mainland. The order went into effect Monday.

Qualified sources in Taipei believed the warning was not based on any new intelligence information, and they attached no special significance to it. They thought the aim was to counter any feeling that, because the Communists have for months subjected the Quemoys to only occasional light bombardment, they have abandoned aggressive intentions against them.

Liquor Board Refuses Pair of Regulations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Board of Liquir Control has refused to make permanent two emergency liquor regulations requested by the Liquor Department.

J. Frederic Rose, chief of the department's Permit Division, indicated the board will be urged to reconsider its refusal.

One of the proposals would have placed the burden of proof on a liquor permit applicant who chooses to appeal the department director's refusal to grant him a permit.

The other would have prohibited the director from issuing or transferring a permit if:

1. The applicant's record of convictions for offenses other than traffic misdemeanors indicates a "general disregard for law and order." The liquor control law itself mentions only felony convictions.

2. The applicant makes a false statement on his application.

3. Local law enforcement agencies object on "reasonable and well-founded grounds."

The two regulations have been in effect nearly 60 days on an emergency basis.

The world climate has been getting warmer in the past 50 years. At the present rate, retreating ice-caps are causing the seas to rise at the rate of one-eighth of an inch a year.

5 Indicted in Trio of Bank Thefts

CINCINNATI (AP) — A federal grand jury has indicted five men in recent Ohio bank robberies at Hamilton, Morrow and Yorkville.

Charles F. Waugaman and Daniel J. Koenig of Columbus were indicted on bank robbery charges in the $38,000 holdup last Aug. 22 of the Community Savings Bank of Yorkville.

Two men wearing false beards and dark glasses staged the holdup and herded four bank workers and three customers into a vault before escaping.

Pleas Moody Turner, 40, of Hamilton was indicted on charges he robbed a branch of Hamilton's First National Bank of $2,251 last Jan. 4.

Turner is still recuperating from a bullet wound in the head. A Hamilton County patrolman shot him at a roadblock shortly after the robbery.

Indictments were returned against Cosmo Carmine Capo, 49, Brownsville, Tex., and James E. Collins, Matamoras, Mexico, in the $5,608 robbery of Morrow's First National Bank.

After the holdup last Feb. 2, their car broke down and the two were arrested.

The first Atlantic cable was laid in 1858, but became useless about two months later due to failure of its electrical insulation.

Quemoy Leader Fears Invasion

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The garrison commander of the Quemoy Islands has canceled all military leaves, warning that the Chinese Reds may be preparing an invasion of the Nationalist outposts just off the mainland. The order went into effect Monday.

Qualified sources in Taipei believed the warning was not based on any new intelligence information, and they attached no special significance to it. They thought the aim was to counter any feeling that, because the Communists have for months subjected the Quemoys to only occasional light bombardment, they have abandoned aggressive intentions against them.

Hardin Board Pushes Case Against Amish

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—The Hardin County Board of Education has decided to appeal the Amish school case to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The Third District Court of Appeals refused recently to make permanent a Common Pleas Court injunction which held that two Amish schools south of Kenton must close because they do not meet state minimum standards.

Decision to appeal the case was reached Monday night. The county board had called the Amish schools a public nuisance and maintained they did not meet the state's minimum standards of education. Fifty-two pupils attend the schools. While Common Pleas Court had granted a temporary injunction to close the schools, enforcement had been held up pending the appeals court decision.

The appeals court said the injunction was not valid and could not prohibit the schools from operating.

Last of Ebbets Field Slated for Auction

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball memories will go on the block April 24, when the last bits of Ebbets Field pass under an auctioneer's gavel.

Where once the mighty Dodgers trod, the forsaken fans can gather to bid for such memorabilia as old bats, balls, lockers, bricks, plumbing, electrical fixtures and even clumps of sod.

The cornerstone laid in 1912 will be opened, and the speeches and telegrams in it will be sold.

Hardin Board Pushes Case Against Amish

KENTON, Ohio (AP)—The Hardin County Board of Education has decided to appeal the Amish school case to the Ohio Supreme Court.

The Third District Court of Appeals refused recently to make permanent a Common Pleas Court injunction which held that two Amish schools south of Kenton must close because they do not meet state minimum standards.

Decision to appeal the case was reached Monday night. The county board had called the Amish schools a public nuisance and maintained they did not meet the state's minimum standards of education. Fifty-two pupils attend the schools. While Common Pleas Court had granted a temporary injunction to close the schools, enforcement had been held up pending the appeals court decision.

The appeals court said the injunction was not valid and could not prohibit the schools from operating.

Last of Ebbets Field Slated for Auction

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball memories will go on the block April 24, when the last bits of Ebbets Field pass under an auctioneer's gavel.

Where once the mighty Dodgers trod, the forsaken fans can gather to bid for such memorabilia as old bats, balls, lockers, bricks, plumbing, electrical fixtures and even clumps of sod.

The cornerstone laid in 1912 will be opened, and the speeches and telegrams in it will be sold.

Marietta Humane Group Sues Commissioners

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — The Washington County Humane Society has filed a writ of mandamus in Common Pleas Court because the County Commissioners refuse to give the society $3,710 kept in the county's dog and kennel fund in one lump sum. The Humane Society wants the money for the dog pound.

Since 1952, the county has given the society the surplus in the fund to operate the pound, but because of a shortage noted last year on the society's books, the commissioners want to issue the money as it is needed.

South Philadelphia Area Produces Array of Singers

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — One way to make your son famous is to see that he's born and reared in a certain neighborhood of South Philadelphia.

That intelligence came after a chat with Frankie Avalon and Fabian, the teen-agers' delights. Both come from the same neighborhood in South Philadelphia that produced Eddie Fisher, the late Mario Lanza, James Darren, Bobby Rydell, Al Martino, Buddy Greco and Jody Sands.

"All of us come from an eight-block radius," says Fabian.

Avalon adds, "It's the only place in the country where mothers ask: 'How's you son's record doing?'"

Although Fabian and Avalon compete for the same rock 'n' roll dollar, they are the best of friends—even share an apartment here.

"We're just old neighbors," says Fabian.

Avalon is 19 and Fabian has just turned 17.

Both boys are doing very well in pictures. Avalon was in "Guns" of the Timberland" with Alan Ladd and just finished "The Alamo" with John Wayne.

Fabian is making a movie with Bing Crosby, who might be called the Frankie Avalon or Fabian of 1930.

Fabian says Bing is one swell guy but he's not his favorite singer. Who's that?

"Elvis, our leader, who else?" answers Fabian.

Avalon's favorite is Frank Sinatra.

Fabian, still going to high school, also studies acting with Sandy Meisner, the famed coach.

He is an honest recording star, one of the few to admit he hasn't sold his first million record yet.

"I had a couple around 800,000 but that's the closest."

Ike Library To Be Given To Nation

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower's papers and a library to hold them are being given to the government for the use of students and historians.

The three-million-dollar library of Kansas limestone is under construction in Abilene, Kan., Eisenhower's boyhood home.

The building and millions of the President's private and official documents are expected to be turned over to the government when Eisenhower's term in the White House ends Jan. 20.

This was the word from Franklin Floete, head of the General Services Administration, which operates federal buildings.

The special Eisenhower Presidential Library Commission, created as an agency of the state of Kansas and sponsored by the Eisenhower Foundation, will handle the matter until it is turned over to the GSA.

The President is following the example of his two predecessors. The papers and library of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., already belong to the government. Those of former President Harry S. Truman at Independence, Mo., were turned over to the government in 1957.

Eisenhower is nearing the end of a 10-day let-up in official cares and pressures and a heavy concentration on golf at Augusta National Golf Club.

MUST REDUCE TO ADOPT—Frank Sherman, 35, a 320-pound Reseda, Calif., truck driver, and his wife Bernice, 37, 250 pounds, are "doing everything in our power" to lose weight so they can adopt a 6-month-old baby girl. They were told in Superior court that they are too fat to adopt little Janet, whom they have reared since birth. The Shermans have a 4-year-old adopted daughter, Debbie (left).

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower's papers and a library to hold them are being given to the government for the use of students and historians.

The three-million-dollar library of Kansas limestone is under construction in Abilene, Kan., Eisenhower's boyhood home.

The building and millions of the President's private and official documents are expected to be turned over to the government when Eisenhower's term in the White House ends Jan. 20.

This was the word from Franklin Floete, head of the General Services Administration, which operates federal buildings.

The special Eisenhower Presidential Library Commission, created as an agency of the state of Kansas and sponsored by the Eisenhower Foundation, will handle the matter until it is turned over to the GSA.

The President is following the example of his two predecessors. The papers and library of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N.Y., already belong to the government. Those of former President Harry S. Truman at Independence, Mo., were turned over to the government in 1957.

Eisenhower is nearing the end of a 10-day let-up in official cares and pressures and a heavy concentration on golf at Augusta National Golf Club.

MUST REDUCE TO ADOPT—Frank Sherman, 35, a 320-pound Reseda, Calif., truck driver, and his wife Bernice, 37, 250 pounds, are "doing everything in our power" to lose weight so they can adopt a 6-month-old baby girl. They were told in Superior court that they are too fat to adopt little Janet, whom they have reared since birth. The Shermans have a 4-year-old adopted daughter, Debbie (left).

Tiger-WCH Test Ends in 5-5 Knot

A weird baseball game with some unusual circumstances saw Circleville and host Washington C. H. battle to a 5-5 deadlock yesterday before the extra inning test was called because of darkness.

Circleville stormed to a 5-0 lead over the first four innings, then ran into trouble when Washington went on a rampage for four runs in the bottom of the fourth and one in the fifth.

The two teams battled furiously for four more innings, but without scoring success. Both squads missed numerous scoring opportunities and several umpires' decisions were questioned vigorously. The game finally was called in the ninth after the sun disappeared and the clock showed it was nearing 7:30 p. m.

CHS Coach Dick Fisher and WCH mentor Marvin Merritt agreed the game would stand as a deadlock and would not be played off unless it has some bearing on final league standings.

* * *

CIRCLEVILLE missed a winning opportunity in the seventh when they loaded the bases with only one down. The runner on third was wiped out when a squeeze bunt failed to click. The Tigers loaded the bases again in the ninth with two out, but again were frustrated when the next batter fanned.

Washington also suffered some disappointing moments in the final innings. The Blue Lions had men on in each of the last three frames, but the rallies were snuffed out. Their most serious threat was choked in the eighth when a suicide squeeze backfired.

Sam Weller went the distance on the mound for Circleville as did Bill Southworth for WCH. Both were effective when runners clogged the base paths.

Weller allowed 12 hits, fanned five and walked one. Southworth, depending on his slow curve, permitted nine bingles, whiffed 14 and walked three.

Hitting stars were numerous with Circleville's Jake Bailey and Harry Strawser each collecting three safeties in five trips. Their efforts were matched by Terry Stillings and Gil Crouse of the Blue Lions.

Circleville picked up a single run in the second, three in the third and one in the fourth. Washington's counterattack in the fourth produced four runs and the deadlocker came in the fifth.

CHS got off to a good start when Shortstop Jim Wellington blasted Southworth's first pitch off the right center fence for a double, but he was unable to score.

Circleville picked up a run in the second on Jim Tootle's walk and Weller's single into left. The locals got three more in the third when Dave Smith was safe on an error and Bailey and Tootle singled. An error and a walk was sandwiched in between to account for the CHS production.

Wellington picked up Circleville's last run after reaching first on an error. He scored a few minutes later on another bobble.

Washington scored quickly in the fourth on three singles, a walk and an error. Getting the hits for WCH were Carter, Wilson and Juillerat.

The Blue Lions knotted things in the fifth on singles by Stillings and Carter and a contested call at second base. Stillings and Carter were caught off third, and second, but Stillings scored on the rundown at second.

The Tigers are slated for a practice game with Ashville at Ted Lewis Park today, then host Greenfield Friday.

Deers Outlast Monroe, 11-10

Monroe and Williamsport engaged in a real slugfest yesterday, with host Williamsport coming out on top, 11-10.

Monroe jumped to an 8-1 lead by the end of three innings, but Williamsport rallied with one marker in the third, four in the fourth, five in the fifth and one in the seventh.

David Myers gained credit for the win, coming on in the bottom of the fourth. He went on to fan seven and walk seven.

Hunt was charged with the loss. He whiffed seven and walked five.

Monroe scored its 10 runs on five hits, all singles. Williamsport managed six safeties, all one-baggers.

Champ Tells Patterson To Get in Good Shape

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson had better set his sights high if he figures on regaining the world heavyweight crown from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson at the Polo Grounds, June 20.

Ingo says he's better than ever.

"I'm much better now than when I came here the last time," said the handsome, dimple-chinned Swede today. "My right hand comes faster and faster. But it's not only my right hand. My left hand comes faster, too."

It was the "thunder and lightning" right hand that started Patterson tottering from his throne last June 26. Before it was all over Johansson floored the New Yorker seven times. Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the slaughter at 2:03 of the third round.

It took a couple of hours longer Tuesday to get Johansson to agree to shift the return bout contract-signing date from Wednesday to Thursday.

Johansson arrived by plane from Geneva, Switzerland, ready to sign official contracts on Wednesday for the return bout. The State Athletic Commission, saying it wanted more time to inspect the contracts, announced the signing for 10 a.m. Thursday.

"Oh, no," said the very obviously perturbed Ingo Tuesday. "We sign on Wednesday. I've got to be back in Switzerland on Wednesday night."

But, after several huddles with advisor Edwin Ahlquist and Roy Cohn, counsel for the promoting Feature Sports, Inc., Ingo reluctantly agreed to holding the ceremony on Thursday.

Maris 'at Home' In Right Field

BOSTON (AP) — "Why, playing right field is like going home," said New York's Roger Maris.

The Yankee outfielder has worked out in spacious left field in Yankee Stadium this spring, but was shifted to right — his old position at Kansas City — for New York's 1960 inaugural at Boston Tuesday.

Maris certainly appeared to be at home.

He crashed four hits, including two homers and a double, and drove in four runs in the Yankees' 8-4 conquest of the Red Sox before a crowd of 35,162.

School Chiefs Quit

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The school board of nearby Williamsburg is minus a school superintendent again. A spokesman said Tuesday night A. W. Kettlewell, a former superintendent who was recently hired again, has decided not to continue in the job. And the present school chief, A. R. Durose, said he did not want his contract renewed.

CHS Track Unit Gets 3rd in Row

Circleville's flashy track team brought home its third straight win yesterday in a triangular meet at Columbus South. The third opponent was Marion - Franklin.

Circleville captured nine firsts to end the day with 65 5-6 points. South was second with 57 5-6 and Marion - Franklin finished with 24 1-3.

Junior Denny continued his winning habits by storming to three individual firsts and running with the top place 880 relay team.

Larry Hannahs was another top point-maker with firsts in the high and low hurdles, second in the discus and third in the shotput.

BOB Shadley remained undefeated in the 880 run as he paced the distance in 2:08.3. Gary Vandemark sped to first place in the 440 in 54.3.

Another pleasant showing was by John Reid in the pole vault. Showing steady improvement, the Tiger leaper crossed the pole at 10' 1".

Denny left little doubt that he is rounding into top shape as he showed the way in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.3. He stepped off the 220 dash in 23.4, then went to the high jump pit to record a leap of 5' 10" with no opposition forcing him to go higher.

The winning 880-relay team was composed of Shadley, Phil Wing, Archie Ward and Denny. They handled the baton in a time of 1:37.4.

Another ace performer of the day was Reeves of Marion - Franklin who earned first in the shotput, discus and broad jump. His discus heave sailed 149' 5 3/4".

Coach John Current said he was pleased with his squad's showing, especially the boys who are coming through with valuable second, third and fourth places.

Circleville's next meet is scheduled Thursday at Lancaster.

Big blasts for Scioto was a homer by John Hudson and doubles by Kaiser and Sines. R. Martindale had a two-bagger for Jackson.

Darby Tops Pickaway, 11-0; Cops County Baseball Title

Darby won the Pickaway County Baseball League yesterday with a resounding 11-0 victory over host Pickaway.

Heavily favored to cop the league title in its first year of operation, Darby backed up winning hurler Lynn Sheets with a nine-hit attack.

Sheets pitched six innings, walking two and fanning seven. Ace moundsman for the Trojans, Tommy Walters, came on in relief in the seventh to whiff two.

Richard Dean took the loss. In going the route, Dean struck out 10 and issued four free passes. It was Sheet's third straight win, while Dean's record fell to 2-2.

* * *

TOMMY Liff, Darby's fine shortstop, again led his teammates at the plate with two triples. Jerry Vance came through with two doubles and Walters and Sheets added one each. Darwin Conley contributed two hits to the cause.

Sheets gave up just two hits. Bill Harral and Rich Dean garnered two singles against the redhead. Darby is now 7-0 on the season and Pickaway stands 2-2.

The Trojans open defense of their county tournament crown tomorrow at 4 p. m. against Monroe (1-4) on the Scioto diamond.

Pickaway will face Jackson (1-3) at 4 p. m. tomorrow on the Ashville field. By virtue of yesterday's win, Darby is assured a berth in the district tourney.

Circleville picked up a single run in the second, three in the third and one in the fourth. Washington's counterattack in the fourth produced four runs and the deadlocker came in the fifth.

CHS got off to a good start when Shortstop Jim Wellington blasted Southworth's first pitch off the right center fence for a double, but he was unable to score.

Circleville picked up a run in the second on Jim Tootle's walk and Weller's single into left. The locals got three more in the third when Dave Smith was safe on an error and Bailey and Tootle singled. An error and a walk was sandwiched in between to account for the CHS production.

Wellington picked up Circleville's last run after reaching first on an error. He scored a few minutes later on another bobble.

Washington scored quickly in the fourth on three singles, a walk and an error. Getting the hits for WCH were Carter, Wilson and Juillerat.

The Blue Lions knotted things in the fifth on singles by Stillings and Carter and a contested call at second base. Stillings and Carter were caught off third, and second, but Stillings scored on the rundown at second.

The Tigers are slated for a practice game with Ashville at Ted Lewis Park today, then host Greenfield Friday.

Deers Outlast Monroe, 11-10

Monroe and Williamsport engaged in a real slugfest yesterday, with host Williamsport coming out on top, 11-10.

Monroe jumped to an 8-1 lead by the end of three innings, but Williamsport rallied with one marker in the third, four in the fourth, five in the fifth and one in the seventh.

David Myers gained credit for the win, coming on in the bottom of the fourth. He went on to fan seven and walk seven.

Hunt was charged with the loss. He whiffed seven and walked five.

Monroe scored its 10 runs on five hits, all singles. Williamsport managed six safeties, all one-baggers.

Champ Tells Patterson To Get in Good Shape

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson had better set his sights high if he figures on regaining the world heavyweight crown from Sweden's Ingemar Johansson at the Polo Grounds, June 20.

Ingo says he's better than ever. "I'm much better now than when I came here the last time," said the handsome, dimple-chinned Swede today. "My right hand comes faster and faster. But it's not only my right hand. My left hand comes faster, too."

It was the "thunder and lightning" right hand that started Patterson tottering from his throne last June 26. Before it was all over Johansson floored the New Yorker seven times. Referee Ruby Goldstein stopped the slaughter at 2:03 of the third round.

It took a couple of hours longer Tuesday to get Johansson to agree to shift the return bout contract-signing date from Wednesday to Thursday.

Johansson arrived by plane from Geneva, Switzerland, ready to sign official contracts on Wednesday for the return bout. The State Athletic Commission, saying it wanted more time to inspect the contracts, announced the signing for 10 a.m. Thursday.

"Oh, no," said the very obviously perturbed Ingo Tuesday. "We sign on Wednesday. I've got to be back in Switzerland on Wednesday night."

But, after several huddles with advisor Edwin Ahlquist and Roy Cohn, counsel for the promoting Feature Sports, Inc., Ingo reluctantly agreed to holding the ceremony on Thursday.

Maris 'at Home' In Right Field

BOSTON (AP) — "Why, playing right field is like going home," said New York's Roger Maris.

The Yankee outfielder has worked out in spacious left field in Yankee Stadium this spring, but was shifted to right — his old position at Kansas City — for New York's 1960 inaugural at Boston Tuesday.

Maris certainly appeared to be at home.

He crashed four hits, including two homers and a double, and drove in four runs in the Yankees' 8-4 conquest of the Red Sox before a crowd of 35,162.

School Chiefs Quit

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP) — The school board of nearby Williamsburg is minus a school superintendent again. A spokesman said Tuesday night A. W. Kettlewell, a former superintendent who was recently hired again, has decided not to continue in the job. And the present school chief, A. R. Durose, said he did not want his contract renewed.

CHS Track Unit Gets 3rd in Row

Circleville's flashy track team brought home its third straight win yesterday in a triangular meet at Columbus South. The third opponent was Marion - Franklin.

Circleville captured nine firsts to end the day with 65 5-6 points. South was second with 57 5-6 and Marion - Franklin finished with 24 1-3.

Junior Denny continued his winning habits by storming to three individual firsts and running with the top place 880 relay team.

Larry Hannahs was another top point-maker with firsts in the high and low hurdles, second in the discus and third in the shotput.

BOB Shadley remained undefeated in the 880 run as he paced the distance in 2:08.3. Gary Vandemark sped to first place in the 440 in 54.3.

Another pleasant showing was by John Reid in the pole vault. Showing steady improvement, the Tiger leaper crossed the pole at 10' 1".

Denny left little doubt that he is rounding into top shape as he showed the way in the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.3. He stepped off the 220 dash in 23.4, then went to the high jump pit to record a leap of 5' 10" with no opposition forcing him to go higher.

The winning 880-relay team was composed of Shadley, Phil Wing, Archie Ward and Denny. They handled the baton in a time of 1:37.4.

Another ace performer of the day was Reeves of Marion - Franklin who earned first in the shotput, discus and broad jump. His discus heave sailed 149' 5 ¾".

Coach John Current said he was pleased with his squad's showing, especially the boys who are coming through with valuable second, third and fourth places.

Darby Tops Pickaway, 11-0; Cops County Baseball Title

Darby won the Pickaway County Baseball League yesterday with a resounding 11-0 victory over host Pickaway.

Heavily favored to cop the league title in its first year of operation, Darby backed up winning hurler Lynn Sheets with a nine-hit attack.

Sheets pitched six innings, walking two and fanning seven. Ace moundsman for the Trojans, Tommy Walters, came on in relief in the seventh to whiff two.

Richard Dean took the loss. In going the route, Dean struck out 10 and issued four free passes. It was Sheet's third straight win, while Dean's record fell to 2-2.

* * *

TOMMY Liff, Darby's fine shortstop, again led his teammates at the plate with two triples. Jerry Vance came through with two doubles and Walters and Sheets added one each. Darwin Conley contributed two hits to the cause.

Sheets gave up just two hits. Bill Harral and Rich Dean garnered two singles against the redhead. Darby is now 7-0 on the season and Pickaway stands 2-2.

The Trojans open defense of their county tournament crown tomorrow at 4 p. m. against Monroe (1-4) on the Scioto diamond.

Pickaway will face Jackson (1-3) at 4 p. m. tomorrow on the Ashville field. By virtue of yesterday's win, Darby is assured a berth in the district tourney.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Marvin Eugene Hanley who was killed April 20th, 1959, age 17 years.

One sad and lonely year has passed, since our great sorrow fell. The shock which we received that day, we still remember well. We mourn for you in silence, no eyes can see us weep. But many silent tears are shed while others are asleep.

More and more each day we miss you, no one can ever take your place. A love, a smile, a voice is gone, a kind and gentle face. We often sit and think of you, and then of how you died. To think you could not say good-bye before you closed your eyes. Sometimes it's hard to understand, the things that have to be, But God in His wisdom, has a plan beyond our power to see.

Sadly missed by father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanley. Sister, Evelyn, Rose Mary and Delores, Brothers.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Marvin Eugene Hanley, who was killed April 20th, 1959, age 17 years.

One sad and lonely year has passed, since our great sorrow fell. The shock which we received that day, we still remember well. We mourn for you in silence, no eyes can see us weep. But many silent tears are shed while others are asleep.

More and more each day we miss you, no one can ever take your place. A love, a smile, a voice is gone, a kind and gentle face. We often sit and think of you, and then of how you died. To think you could not say good-bye before you closed your eyes. Sometimes it's hard to understand, the things that have to be. But God in His wisdom, has a plan beyond our power to see.

Sadly missed by father and Mother, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hanley. Sister, Evelyn, Rose Mary and Delores, Brothers.

1. Card of Thanks

We would like to offer our sincere thanks and heartfelt gratitude to the Mader Funeral Home, Rev. Humble of the Church of Christ in Christian Union, pallbearers, relatives and friends for their many expressions of sorrow at the passing of our beloved son and brother.

Minoso Is Star As Chisox Whip Kansas City '9'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first showdown in the Rocky Colavito-Harvey Kuenn swap was a flop, but another off-season trade pulled by Cleveland's Frank Lane paid a quick return—for the Chicago White Sox.

Minnie Minoso, the outfielder who has spent his major league career shifting between Cleveland and Chicago, drove in six runs, walloped a grand-slam and broke a ninth-inning tie with a second homer as the White Sox opened defense of the American League flag by beating Kansas City 10-9 Tuesday.

Colavito, the Cleveland favorite traded to Detroit Sunday for Kuenn, was 0-for-6, and Kuenn pulled a leg muscle as the Tigers defeated the Indians 4-2 in 15 innings. The New York Yankees gunning for a come-back, ripped Boston 8-4, and Baltimore ended Washington's stay in first place after 24 hours with a 3-2 victory over the Senators as the AL completed its late season opening.

In the National League, Los Angeles sarted the season's second week in first place, jarring San Francisco loose from a share of the lead with a 4-0 decision. Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 4-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals won their first, beating the Chicago Cubs 5-2 in the only other games scheduled.

The AL drew 162,326 for Tuesday's games and the largest crowd, 52,756, showed up at Cleveland, where Injun fans turned out to see what the Golden Boy would do to the Indians in a Tiger uniform. Colavito, who shared last year's homer title in the AL with 42, struck out four times and hit into a doubleplay.

Kuenn, the 1959 AL bat champ (.353), was 2-for-7, but didn't figure in the scoring. He was injured on a fielding play, then suffered further damage running to first and chasing a fly. He'll miss today's game and maybe more.

Detroit finally put it away on Al Kaline's two-run single off Bobby Tiefenauer, the Tribe's fifth pitcher. Jim Grant, No. 3 in the procession, was the loser after starter Gary Bell and the Tigers' Frank Lary had carried a shutout duel through 10 innings. Both clubs scored in the 11th on two-run pinch singles—Niel Chrisley delivering for Detroit and Jim Piersall for the Indians. Pete Burnside won it in relief.

Minoso, returned to the White Sox in a seven-player deal that sent third baseman Bubba Phillips (0-for-3) and catcher Johnny Romano (1-for-1) to Cleveland, broke it up for the White Sox on a 3-1 pitch by reliever John Tsitouris of the A's. Kansas City had tied it with two in the ninth, one on Norm Siebern's home run, and would have had more except for Minoso's peg from left that nailed Dick Williams at the plate. Winning reliever Ray Moore then ended the rally with one pitch-getting Bill Tuttle on a double play.

A record Comiskey Park opening day crowd, 41,661, saw the Sox build a 5-0 lead, all unearned, in two innings against Bud Daley. But veteran Early Wynn, beginning his 20th season, was chased in a three-run fifth opened by Whitey Herzog's pinch-hit homer.

Roger Maris, obtained from Kansas City as part of the Siebern deal, hit a pair of homers and drove in four runs for the Yankees before 35,162 at Boston. Right-hander Jim Coates went all the way for the victory, giving up nine hits—one Ted Williams' 494th home run, his second of the season and breaking a tie with Lou Gehrig for fourth place on the all-time list. Tom Brewer was the loser, giving up 11 of the Yanks' 17 hits.

A seventh-inning double by Gene Woodling broke a 2-2 tie for the Orioles, who drew 32,747. Jack Fisher won it with 3 1-3 innings of three-hit shutout relief. Pete Ramos tagged for Brooks Robinson's two-run homer, was the loser.

Kuenn Shines, Rocky Goofs In Opener

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harvey Kuenn won the first round of his showdown battle with Rocky Colavito hands down, but he will not be in the Cleveland Indians' lineup against the Detroit Tigers today because of a pulled leg muscle.

The Indians' new centerfielder was injured on a fielding play in the 12th inning of Tuesday's opener with the Tigers and would have been removed from the game then had there been anyone to replace him. But the Indians' bench had been swept clean of everything except pitchers in an 11th inning rally that tied the score after the Tigers had scored two runs in their half of the inning.

"I thought of putting Jim Grant in the outfield, but Kuenn said he'd stay in," Manager Joe Gordon explained after the 15-inning contest, which the Tigers won, 4-2.

Instead, Grant hurled 3 1-3 innings as the third of five Cleveland pitchers and was charged with the loss.

Trainer Wally Bock said he wouldn't even guess how long Kuenn would be sidelined.

Gordon said Jim Piersall would be in center field today. It was Piersall's pinch single with the bases loaded that drove in the two runs that tied the score in Tuesday's game. A two-run single by Al Kaline in the 15th off Bob Tiefenauer provided the margin of victory for the Tigers.

Kuenn's performance in his first game in an Indian uniform may relief some of the pressure on General Manager Frank Lane from fans objecting to the trade that brought the AL batting king from the Tigers in exchange for Colavito.

He hit a double and single and did a flawless job of fielding.

Colavito contributed seven outs in six official times at bat to the Tigers' victory. He struck out four times, lofted a short fly to left field and hit into a double play. He walked once.

To make his debut with the Tigers even more unhappy, he lost a short fly by Tito Francona in the sun and allowed it to drop in front of him for a single and apparently misjudged a fly by Russ Nixon that hit the top of the right field fence and bounced onto the playing field for a double.

Finsterwald Gets Nod as Favorite

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The tournament may lack some luster with golf's two top money winners absent, but there will not be any shortage of talent when the $27,000 Greater New Orleans Open starts Thursday.

Masters champion Arnold Palmer begged off because of television commitments, due to his triumph in the Augusta, Ga., tournament two weeks ago.

Ken Venturi, the slender California stylist who lost the Masters by one stroke, also will be among those missing. He trails only Palmer in money won.

This leaves the favorite's mantle to Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., runnerup in the Greensboro, N.C., Open last weekend.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Do TV commercials annoy you? Are you irked by fatuous smokers, pounding hammers, skindiving shavers, Great Danes jumping into station wagons?

Relax. Now you may write your own sales message. A big oil company plans a commercial-writing contest extolling its gasoline. Actually, the contest is just a switch on the tried-and-true "I like Brand A because—"idea, with the usual vacation trips and automobiles for prizes.

But while it is an amusing enough idea, I don't think it will serve to release the pent-up emotions of the commercials-weary viewer.

Curiously, there is something about a commercial — and some TV shows, too—that arouse passions never touched by advertisements on the printed page.

I know a man who is so emotional about "The Gale Storm Show," he will come from another room to switch the dial when he hears the star's voice. I know a woman who dislikes so intensely a detergent commercial she can't watch the soap opera that surrounds it.

Perhaps we all have our TV crochets. I will leap from a comfortable chair to banish from sight and sound that pair of twins singing a chewing gum song and carefully avert my eyes from one cigarette salesman who tries to be funny.

Recommended tonight: "Ninotchka," ABC, 8:30-10—with Maria Schell, Zsa Zsa Gabor and Gig Young; Bob Hope Show, NBC, 9-10—windup for the year; Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11—"The Girl Who Knew Too Much," with Mona Freeman.

All times Eastern Standard.

SOMEBODY GOOFED — William F. Morrow puzzles over the reversed "3" on license plate of his father's car in Akron, O. Their first complaint got a "keep them" reply, but later they were promised new plates.

Finns Superior In Distance Run

BOSTON (AP) — Finland remains superior in the art of distance running and the United States has an entirely new cast of Olympic marathon candidates. These observations today followed the 64th Boston Marathon.

Paavo Kotila, a 32-year old bachelor farmer from northern Finland, won the Patriot's Day race Tuesday by 500 yards over Gordon McKenzie of New York, in the near-record time of 2:20:54.

Kotila's countryman Veikko Koivumake came in fifth.

It was the fourth time in seven years a Finn captured the B.A.A. laurels. No less than 14 men from Finland have been fifth or better.

Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen worked for the Dodgers three times — once as a manager and twice as a coach.

Fullmer Gets Nod To Trip Giardello

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — Joey Giardello, getting his first title shot in 12 years' campaigning, guns for the National Boxing Assn. world middleweight championship tonight against rugged Gene Fullmer, defending his crown for the second time.

The 13,200-seat fieldhouse on the mountain-rimmed campus of Montana State College is nearly sold out for the nationally televised (ABC-TV, 10 EST) 15-round match.

The expected box-office gate of more than $100,000, with $20 tops, and TV receipts of $100,000 guaranteed monetary success for Montana's first championship bout since Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons battled in a 1923 financial flop.

Fullmer collects all the $100,000 TV payoff and Giardello, veteran of 106 fights since 1948, pockets $25,000 plus $5,000 expenses.

Fullmer, renowned for his superb physical condition, said "I figure Giardello will be coming out fast in the opening rounds, but I aways go into the ring expecting trouble." The 28-year-old champion from West Jordan, Utah, is among those who think the fight could go the distance.

Fullmer is a 13-to-5 favorite. He has a 51-4 record with 22 kayos and was knocked out only by Sugar Ray Robinson in 1957.

Giardello, ranked No. 7 by the NBA and No. 5 by Ring magazine, boasted of winning and claimed he is in better shape than he has been for several years.

The 29-year-old ring warrior's record is 83-17-5, with one no-decision. He has knocked out 30 opponents and has been counted out three times.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harvey Kuenn won the first round of his showdown battle with Rocky Colavito hands down, but he will not be in the Cleveland Indians' lineup against the Detroit Tigers today because of a pulled leg muscle.

The Indians' new centerfielder was injured on a fielding play in the 12th inning of Tuesday's opener with the Tigers and would have been removed from the game then had there been anyone to replace him. But the Indians' bench had been swept clean of everything except pitchers in an 11th inning rally that tied the score after the Tigers had scored two runs in their half of the inning.

"I thought of putting Jim Grant in the outfield, but Kuenn said he'd stay in," Manager Joe Gordon explained after the 15-inning contest, which the Tigers won, 4-2.

Instead, Grant hurled 3 1-3 innings as the third of five Cleveland pitchers and was charged with the loss.

Trainer Wally Bock said he wouldn't even guess how long Kuenn would be sidelined.

Gordon said Jim Piersall would be in center field today. It was Piersall's pinch single with the bases loaded that drove in the two runs that tied the score in Tuesday's game. A two-run single by Al Kaline in the 15th off Bob Tiefenauer provided the margin of victory for the Tigers.

Kuenn's performance in his first game in an Indian uniform may relief some of the pressure on General Manager Frank Lane from fans objecting to the trade that brought the AL batting king from the Tigers in exchange for Colavito.

He hit a double and single and did a flawless job of fielding.

Colavito contributed seven outs in six official times at bat to the Tigers' victory. He struck out four times, lofted a short fly to left field and hit into a double play. He walked once.

To make his debut with the Tigers even more unhappy, he lost a short fly by Tito Francona in the sun and allowed it to drop in front of him for a single and apparently misjudged a fly by Russ Nixon that hit the top of the right field fence and bounced onto the playing field for a double.

Finsterwald Gets Nod as Favorite

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The tournament may lack some luster with golf's two top money winners absent, but there will not be any shortage of talent when the $27,000 Greater New Orleans Open starts Thursday.

Masters champion Arnold Palmer begged off because of television commitments, due to his triumph in the Augusta, Ga., tournament two weeks ago.

Ken Venturi, the slender California stylist who lost the Masters by one stroke, also will be among those missing. He trails only Palmer in money won.

This leaves the favorite's mantle to Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., runnerup in the Greensboro, N.C., Open last weekend.

Views on Television - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Do TV commercials annoy you? Are you irked by fatuous smokers, pounding hammers, skindiving shavers, Great Danes jumping into station wagons?

Relax. Now you may write your own sales message. A big oil company plans a commercial-writing contest extolling its gasoline. Actually, the contest is just a switch on the tried-and-true "I like Brand A because—"idea, with the usual vacation trips and automobiles for prizes.

But while it is an amusing enough idea, I don't think it will serve to release the pent-up emotions of the commercials-weary viewer.

Curiously, there is something about a commercial — and some TV shows, too—that arouse passions never touched by advertisements on the printed page.

I know a man who is so emotional about "The Gale Storm Show," he will come from another room to switch the dial when he hears the star's voice. I know a woman who dislikes so intensely a detergent commercial she can't watch the soap opera that surrounds it.

Perhaps we all have our TV crochets. I will leap from a comfortable chair to banish from sight and sound that pair of twins singing a chewing gum song and carefully avert my eyes from one cigarette salesman who tries to be funny.

Recommended tonight: "Ninotchka," ABC, 8:30-10—with Maria Schell, Zsa Zsa Gabor and Gig Young; Bob Hope Show, NBC, 9-10—windup for the year; Steel Hour, CBS, 10-11—"The Girl Who Knew Too Much," with Mona Freeman.

All times Eastern Standard.

Finns Superior In Distance Run

BOSTON (AP) — Finland remains superior in the art of distance running and the United States has an entirely new cast of Olympic marathon candidates. These observations today followed the 64th Boston Marathon.

Paavo Kotila, a 32-year old bachelor farmer from northern Finland, won the Patriot's Day race Tuesday by 500 yards over Gordon McKenzie of New York, in the near-record time of 2:20:54.

Kotila's countryman Veikko Koivumake came in fifth.

It was the fourth time in seven years a Finn captured the B.A.A. laurels. No less than 14 men from Finland have been fifth or better.

Milwaukee Manager Charlie Dressen worked for the Dodgers three times — once as a manager and twice as a coach.

Fullmer Gets Nod To Trip Giardello

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — Joey Giardello, getting his first title shot in 12 years' campaigning, guns for the National Boxing Assn. world middleweight championship tonight against rugged Gene Fullmer, defending his crown for the second time.

The 13,200-seat fieldhouse on the mountain-rimmed campus of Montana State College is nearly sold out for the nationally televised (ABC-TV, 10 EST) 15-round match.

The expected box-office gate of more than $100,000, with $20 tops, and TV receipts of $100,000 guaranteed monetary success for Montana's first championship bout since Jack Dempsey and Tommy Gibbons battled in a 1923 financial flop.

Fullmer collects all the $100,000 TV payoff and Giardello, veteran of 106 fights since 1948, pockets $25,000 plus $5,000 expenses.

Fullmer, renowned for his superb physical condition, said "I figure Giardello will be coming out fast in the opening rounds, but I aways go into the ring expecting trouble." The 28-year-old champion from West Jordan, Utah, is among those who think the fight could go the distance.

Fullmer is a 13-to-5 favorite. He has a 51-4 record with 22 kayos and was knocked out only by Sugar Ray Robinson in 1957.

Giardello, ranked No. 7 by the NBA and No. 5 by Ring magazine, boasted of winning and claimed he is in better shape than he has been for several years.

The 29-year-old ring warrior's record is 83-17-5, with one no-decision. He has knocked out 30 opponents and has been counted out three times.

PUCO Eyes Bell-General Phone Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—How to divide money from long distance calls handled by two telephone companies. That is the problem facing the Utilities Commission.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and General Telephone Co. of Ohio have presented this problem to the PUCO, the first time such a matter has been put before the group.

Clare E. Williams, president of General Telephone, testified Tuesday that Ohio Bell refused to cooperate in a study to determine the cost of jointly furnishing long distance service.

He said Ohio Bell would not agree to a cost study unless it was agreed in advance that it would be a basis for revised settlement. Such a pre-study agreement, he said, would have meant General's acceptance of Ohio Bell's study methods.

Attorney C. B. Ballou of Ohio Bell said the dividing of revenue in the past has been on the basis of the use and cost of the telephone equipment.

"General now presses for departure from these recognized principle and must assume the burden of providing that the departure is warranted," he declared.

General wants the commission to order Ohio Bell to agree to use the methods and procedures outlined in a manual prepared last October by the U.S. Independent Telephone Assn. There has been no testimony about the difference in income General might expect to receive using the association's methods.

PUCO Eyes Bell-General Phone Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—How to divide money from long distance calls handled by two telephone companies. That is the problem facing the Utilities Commission.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and General Telephone Co. of Ohio have presented this problem to the PUCO, the first time such a matter has been put before the group.

Clare E. Williams, president of General Telephone, testified Tuesday that Ohio Bell refused to cooperate in a study to determine the cost of jointly furnishing long distance service.

He said Ohio Bell would not agree to a cost study unless it was agreed in advance that it would be a basis for revised settlement. Such a pre-study agreement, he said, would have meant General's acceptance of Ohio Bell's study methods.

Attorney C. B. Ballou of Ohio Bell said the dividing of revenue in the past has been on the basis of the use and cost of the telephone equipment.

"General now presses for departure from these recognized principle and must assume the burden of providing that the departure is warranted," he declared.

General wants the commission to order Ohio Bell to agree to use the methods and procedures outlined in a manual prepared last October by the U.S. Independent Telephone Assn. There has been no testimony about the difference in income General might expect to receive using the association's methods.
